New England Welcomes You to the ANA Auction

July 28 — August 1

There's something wonderful in it for you.

This month, New England Rare Coin Auctions will conduct the year's most prestigious rare coin auction: The 1979 ANA Sale, Featuring the Mocatta Collection and Other Major Consignments.

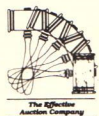

Bid on the Best.

New England Rare Coin Auctions welcomes you to this landmark numismatic event. If you're planning to attend the auction in person, you'll have the opportunity to bid on some of numismatics' most exciting material. U.S. gold and patterns from the world-famous Mocatta Collection. Rare silver. Rare copper. Rare medals. Rare foreign coins and medals. Rare errors. Rare paper money. Something for every collector.

Bid from Your Home.

If you can't attend the auction yourself, you can still bid on the coins you're interested in — either by mail bid, or by using New England's exclusive Personal Bidding Service.TM Our 20 Bidder-Representatives throughout the country are eager to bid for you on the ANA auction floor. THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons eleven years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens, or medals, whether advanced collectors or those only generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The association was founded in 1891, and has over 31,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members. See table of contents for membership application location.

All Association members, except Associates, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $20 to cover admittance fee and the first year's dues. Succeeding annual dues are $15. Non-member subscriptions, $15 per year. Single copies, $1.25. For application blanks or other information, write to Executive Vice President, Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.

The Striking of the
Susan B. Anthony Dollar

by Q. David Bowers
LM 336

It is a pleasure to request the honor of your attendance at a ceremony to commemorate the production striking of both the circulating and proof Susan B. Anthony dollar coin. The guests will gather at the Bureau of the Mint Assay Office in San Francisco, California, at 7:30 a.m., on Friday, February 2, 1979. The ceremony will start at 8:00 a.m. The Assay Office is located at 155 Hermann Street, San Francisco. Please call to let us know if your schedule will permit you to join us on this historic occasion. We look forward to seeing you there.

*Sincerely, Stella B. Hackel, Director of the Mint,

For me, such an occasion was obviously not to be missed, for how often does the United States Mint produce an entirely different coin? And the Susan B. Anthony issue promises to be interesting in several regards.

First, it portrays the only American woman ever to be honored on a United States coin for regular circulation. Many women have indeed appeared on United States coinage before; one has only to look at the Liberty Head coinage of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, the Liberty seated coinage, the Barber coinage, the Liberty walking and Liberty standing silver coins of our own century and so on to find many examples. However, "Miss Liberty" in these instances was a stylized representation, not a depiction of an actual living person. It could be argued, I suppose, that the Morgan silver dollar (1878-1921) depicts an actual woman, for it is "an almost photographic likeness" (in the words of one contemporary reporter) of Miss Anna Williams, a Philadelphia model and teacher, who posed for the engraver, George P. Morgan. It can also be argued, however, that Miss Williams was intended not to represent herself on the coin but, rather, to be emblematic of a general "Miss Liberty" design.

Likewise, Teresa Cafarelli, later to become Mrs. Anthony DeFrancisci, posed for the 1921 Peace Dollar, not because the United States government wanted to honor this attractive Italian immigrant but because a stylized head of Miss Liberty was needed.

Commemorative coins feature several women, including Queen Isabella of Spain (on the 1893 Isabella quarter), Eleanor Dare and her child Virginia (on the 1937 Roanoke half dollar), and numerous goddesses of Liberty and Justice, but commemorative issues were not struck as a circulating medium for commerce.

Second, the size and format of the Susan B. Anthony dollar promised to be different from anything issued previously. Midway in size between the existing Washington quarter and Kennedy half dollar, the Susan B. Anthony dollar weighs one-third as much as four quarters (I will leave it to the mathematicians among our readership to figure out the precise weight!). The inner border on both obverse and reverse is an 11-sided polygon.

The raison d'être of the coin is to provide a dollar-size issue which, unlike current Eisenhower dollars, will be small and convenient enough to actually circulate. Thus, it is hoped that the coin will be a boon to the vending machine industry. Whereas a decade ago a handful of dimes or a couple of quarters could make a significant purchase, with today's inflation many food and novelty items sell for a dollar or more. It is hoped that the new Susan B. Anthony dollar, convenient enough to carry in quantity, will find widespread use and lessen the need for change machines.

Susan B. Anthony

Today a paper dollar bill has a life in circulation of only about 18 months before it becomes so soiled that it must be returned to the Treasury Department for destruction and replacement. It is hoped that the new Susan B. Anthony dollar coin will last many multiples of that time, perhaps 20-40 years, with a resultant savings.

After considering Miss Hackel's invitation for about two seconds, I telephoned my acceptance to Washington. My wife, Christie, and I looked forward to the impending ceremony, one of three such ceremonies (others were held at Philadelphia and Denver) to inaugurate the new coin, but different from the others in that proof-grade coins would be struck only at San Francisco.

We arrived in San Francisco the evening of February 1st, the day before the scheduled event. Following a late-night snack in our room at the Fairmont Hotel, we set the alarm for 6:00 a.m. the following morning. The ceremony was to be held at an early hour because the Secretary of the Treasury, W. Michael Blumenthal, had to be in Los Angeles later in the day to give a speech.

Six a.m. came all too soon, and it was with a bit of grogginess that we hopped out of bed and made preparations for the exciting event.

Following a quick breakfast, we took a fifteen-minute taxi ride to 155 Hermann Street, which turned out to be the relatively new United States Assay Office, a sharp contrast to the old San Francisco Mint, which now stands as a museum on Mission Street. Although it is technically called an "assay office," in reality, two floors of the structure are occupied by heavy coining presses. It is indeed a mint, in actuality if not in name. Perhaps in a way this is historic justice, for in the early 1850s a mint was established in San Francisco under government auspices, but it was designated not as a mint but, rather, as the United States Assay Office of Gold. The "mint" term was not used until 1854, when expanded facilities were constructed.

The former San Francisco Mint, more centrally located in the city, is now a facility for document storage, data processing, and packaging and mailing of proof and other coins to collectors. In addition, as noted, a museum is open to the public. No coins are currently struck there.

Alighting from the taxi, we proceeded up a sloping drive toward a huge, white granite building. Guards spaced at regular intervals around the outside apparently recognized us as guests and beckoned us to continue on the path which eventually led to the back side of the building. Against the building wall on the front and on all sides were huge spools of tightly-wound copper and clad metal held together with bands, awaiting eventual transformation into coins. (We later learned that the Assay Office had no facilities for tourists or casual visitors. Perhaps that is why the main entrance is on the far side of the building and is rather inconspicuous.)

Walking up a few stairs and crossing a terrazzo-floor lobby (bearing a brass plaque patterned after the $50 gold slug of Gold Rush fame) we collected "Honored Guest" ribbons which had been prepared in advance for us. We were among the earliest arrivals and noted that ribbons had been prepared for other numismatic personalities, including Kurt Krueger (a governor of the American Numismatic Association who, at the time, was representing Numismatic News), Margo Russell (editor of Coin World), and several others. In addition, there were numerous representatives of the general news media, Treasury and government officials, and representatives of the business community.

As a security precaution, we and the other guests were required to empty our coats and pockets of coins and put them in small manila envelopes, appropriately marked with our names. From that point, we were directed up two flights of stairs to the third floor where the guests were to assemble.

It was about 7:15 a.m. when we entered a brightly-lighted rectangular room in which two easels portrayed plaster casts, copper galvanos, and enlarged photographs relating to the Anthony dollar. On hand was a very illustrious personage, perhaps not recognized as such in the schedule of events (in view of the impending presence of important high-ranking government officials), but to numismatists a candidate for fame and posterity: Frank Gasparro, the chief engraver of the United States Mint, the gentleman who had earlier designed the 1959 Lincoln cent Memorial reverse, the reverse of the 1964 Kennedy half dollar, the Eisenhower dollar of 1971, and numerous medals and other Mint products.

Mr. Gasparro seemed pleased that we spent quite a bit of time lingering in front of the displays. A rather soft-spoken, modest gentleman, he reflected quiet pride in his accomplishment. Fortunately, the majority of guests were yet to come, and we had quite a bit of time to ask him various questions concerning what undoubtedly will be recognized by numismatists as the crowning achievement to date of his distinguished career.

Although a number of people pressed for other designs — the classical head of Liberty (as used earlier on the Liberty cap cent, for example) being among them, according to Mr. Gasparro — the popular sentiment, perhaps reflective of women's liberation in our time, prevailed, and Susan B. Anthony was taken from history to appear on this issue. Interestingly, at the beginning of our discussion a lady representative of the Daughters of the American Revolution came up to me, saw my camera, and asked me to take a picture of her together with Mr. Gasparro. Susan Anthony, it turned out, was a D.A.R. member. Today this has a touch of irony, for Susan B. Anthony is considered to be an archetype of liberal thinking, whereas the D.A.R. is known for its conservatism.

What type of portrait to use? Fortunately, Frank Gasparro had a number of photographic likenesses, acquired from several sources, including a library in Philadelphia and Susan B. Anthony's descendants. Selected for a particular study was a photograph which in 1936 had been used by a relative as part of a national campaign. Although a grand-niece of Susan B. Anthony did not prefer it because of its use by a family member in the 1930s, it was deemed to be the most likely candidate. Pictured was Ms. Anthony with her hair tied in a tight bun behind her head and with an austere visage.

Among the photographs at Gasparro's disposal were ones from various seasons of Ms. Anthony's life. The selected one showed her as an older woman, but as the photograph used in the 1930s had been retouched to soften the effects of age, this theme was further carried through by the engraver. The main use of the photographic likeness was to provide the correct profile and facial features. The finishing touches were designed to depict a younger woman, so as to "capture her in the prime of her life," according to Mr. Gasparro. Before any modeling was attempted, Mr. Gasparro spent a full week studying the pictures and learning of her personality so as to "get to know" Ms. Anthony as intimately as possible. Only by knowing the subject can the engraver create a realistic likeness, he said.

Born on February 15, 1820, Susan B. Anthony was the daughter of Daniel Anthony and his wife, Quaker storekeepers near Adams, Massachusetts. Her early years were spent in typical childhood pursuits. When the Panic of 1837 and the consequent hard times came, Susan, by then an attractive young woman, was forced by the failure of her family's business to cease her attendance in Philadelphia at Miss Moulson's Friends Seminary and return to teach in a Quaker girls' school in New Rochelle, New York. In July of 1848, her family, Susan being absent, attended a two-day meeting in Seneca Falls, New York, an event which would later be recognized by history as the beginning of the woman's rights movement. Susan's sister, Mary, and her mother and father all signed the Declaration of Sentiments, prepared by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and patterned after the Declaration of Independence. The key phrase was, "We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men and women are created equal."

Daniel Anthony was interested in several different causes considered radical at the time, including free thought, the abolition of slavery, and temperance. Young Susan was exposed to and became part of many discussions with family and friends on these subjects. In 1849 she delivered her first public speech as a fund-raiser and president of the local Daughters of Temperance. As her views solidified, her determination became stronger. In 1853 when Horace Greeley, at the New York Constitutional Convention, asked, "Ladies, will you please remember that the bullet and the ballot go together. If you vote, are you ready to fight?"; Susan answered, "Yes, Mr. Greeley, just as you fought in the late war, at the point of a goose quill."

From 1868 until 1872 she owned and published the Revolution, a weekly journal which espoused the ideals of several movements in which she took an interest. Inequalities, strikes, the plight of working women, and other subjects were discussed in detail.

Her main cornerstone of fame was to come a few years later in the case of the United States versus Susan B. Anthony. In 1872 she told delegates to a suffrage convention that the Fourteenth Amendment did not specifically exclude women from voting. Scanning the text, she was unable to find any indication that the franchise was intended for men only. On November 1st, with the Fourteenth Amendment and the state election law in her hand, she persuaded the male inspectors of the Eighth Ward in Rochester, New York, to include her name and several others in the voting register. A few days later, on November 5th, Susan Anthony and fifteen other women came back to the polls and cast their votes, which were duly counted as part of the national election. On Thanksgiving morning of the same month Susan and her voting friends were arrested. All pleaded guilty to casting ballots and were ordered to appear before the court. The trial was set for the summer of 1873.

During the intervening time, Susan B. Anthony kept busy speaking in many different locations on the question, "Is it a Crime for a United States Citizen to Vote?" In a trial which has later been widely cited as a travesty of justice, Associate Justice Ward Hunt, newly appointed to the bench by Senator Roscoe Conkling, a noted adversary of the women's cause, declared that Susan Anthony was not competent to testify. Further, he directed to the jury that a verdict of guilty must be found as the issue was a matter of law and not of opinion. The jury was not consulted in the matter. Her reaction to the sentence of a $100 fine and the cost of prosecution was taken in part from the earlier proposals of Jefferson and Adams for the Great Seal of the United States: "May it please your Honor, I shall never pay a dollar of your unjust penalty . . . and I shall earnestly and persistently continue to urge all women to the practical recognition . . . that resistance to tyranny is obedience to God."

The United States Government did not pursue the matter actively, and the fine was never paid. During the remainder of her life until her death in 1906, she spent untold time and effort writing, speaking, and otherwise advancing the cause of women's suffrage, work which eventually would culminate in 1920 with the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment.

After discussing Susan B. Anthony with Frank Gasparro, our conversation

drifted to other numismatic subjects, particularly about commemorative coins. He expressed the opinion that the Mint would probably never make additional commemoratives, due to all the problems of years earlier, in which favored distributors made windfall profits by purchasing the coins from the Mint at face value and by selling them at unconscionably high profits. He mentioned specifically the abuses with the Booker T. Washington and Washington-Carver coins (from the 1940s and early 1950s) and the near-scandals which resulted.

I mentioned to Mr. Gasparro that the issuance of commemorative coins would further assure his niche in the numismatic hall of fame, so to speak. He replied that he had produced many medals which were sought by collectors, but acknowledged that while medals might be interesting, coins have a special magic as far as numismatists are concerned. It appeared to me that his comments concerning commemoratives may have been more the "official Mint position" rather than his own feelings.

On display in the room, in addition to a long table filled with coffee and donuts, was a number of die pairs used to create Susan B. Anthony dollars, both proof and regular issues, as well as a made-up proof set of the type that will be sold to collectors later in the year. Although the scheduled striking held during my visit was a "ceremonial striking," test impressions had obviously been made earlier, as the proofs of the Susan B. Anthony dollar in the proof set illustrated.

As 8:00 a.m. approached, the guests filed into an adjacent room filled with folding chairs arranged theatre style. At the front was a table and lectern, behind which was a green banner bearing the emblem of the United States Treasury Department. When Christie and I entered the room it was half full. I was eager to get an aisle seat, so as to be able to use my camera. Then at the last minute I noticed that several seats were vacant in the very first row. So, there we went — a vantage which was to give us a close view of all the proceedings.

At about 8:15 the luminaries assembled at the front table. Included were Stella Hackel, Director of the Mint; Bette Anderson, Undersecretary of the Treasury; and W. Michael Blumenthal, Secretary of the Treasury. In addition, other national and local officials were present.

Stella Hackel furnished an interesting introduction, giving a brief biography of Secretary Blumenthal. It turns out that the Secretary, a German immigrant, had his first job in San Francisco, where he counted cookies in a bakery. He then progressed, step by step, through an illustrious career, which culminated in the presidency of the Bendix Corporation and, in more recent times, to the position of Secretary of the Treasury under President Jimmy Carter.

Speaking from prepared notes, Secretary Blumenthal told of the new Anthony dollar and the government's expectation for it. It would, he said, present efficiencies, for the pieces would last longer in circulation than paper dollars and would be of a form easily handled by the public. This should effect an economy of $4½ million a year, an important factor in an administration which is trying to cut costs. He then told a bit about Susan B. Anthony's life and how she came to be commemorated on the coin. "If Indians, buffalos, and eagles can be on coins, then a woman can be also," was a light-hearted comment which evoked laughter.

Following Blumenthal's remarks, the group went down one flight of stairs to the second floor to visit the production facility for proof coinage. In a large room, old white-painted presses were all set to stamp out proof coins one at a time. Blumenthal and several others gathered at a press in the part of the room, and with the aid of a press-operator, produced the first "ceremonial" proof dollar, holding it up proudly to display it before a large group of photographers and others. During the next five to ten minutes, several other pieces were coined, and many poses were taken.

During this time I had the opportunity to examine minutely this particular press, the dies, and to hold some of the coins. (I later found this was not in accordance with general regulations. Apparently the presence of the Secretary of the Treasury Blumenthal, a first at the San Francisco Mint, caused the departure from the regular rules.)

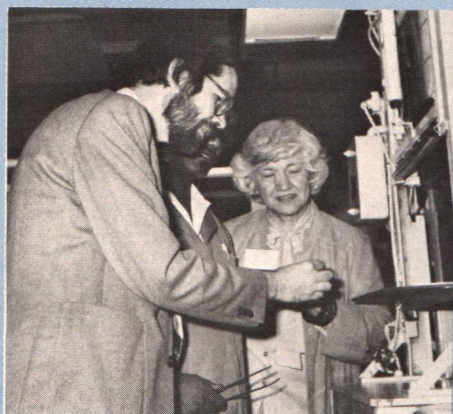

Each proof coin was made by taking a blank or planchet from a group placed on a metal table in front of the operator, spread out just like a fallen stack of poker chips. Each blank was carefully placed on the die and a lever was used to actuate the press. During the stamping process a protective glass plate came down between the operator and the die, thus making the coining process visible, but at the same time protecting the operator from metal scraps. Then, as the die receded upward and after the glass plate lifted, the operator took a large forceps and extracted each coin, placing it on an easel, together with other pieces. During the whole process the dollars were not touched by human hands, nor were the faces of the coins allowed to come into contact with others.

Director of the Mint Stella B. Hackel listens as Secretary of the Treasury W. Michael Blumenthal discusses the new Anthony dollar.

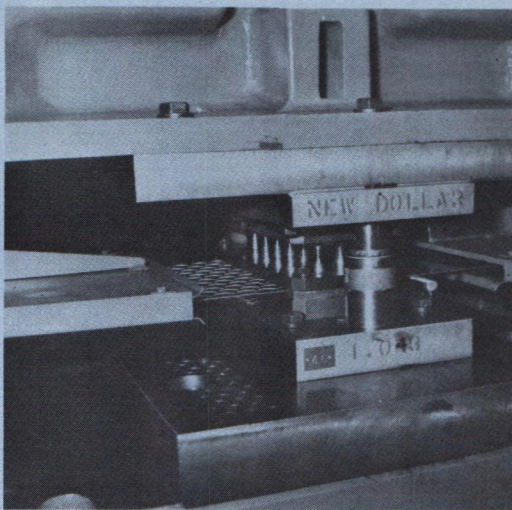

Cleveland Bias, operator of press #20, stands with Christie as he holds up the first proof Susan B. Anthony dollar.

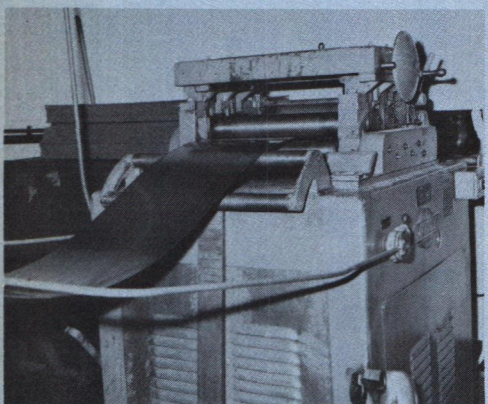

Margo Russell and I admire the first Susan B. Anthony dollar while press operator Cleveland Bias looks on.

Nearby on press #19 additional proof dollars are being struck. The tray to the left holds nearly two dozen newly-produced coins.

Down at the production level of the Mint, feeder-rollers spew a shiny ribbon of silver-colored clad metal into the planchet-cutting machine.

Following picture-taking and general discussions, all of which took perhaps fifteen minutes, guests were invited to do one of two things: to return upstairs to the reception area for additional refreshments and conversation or to go downstairs to visit the production facilities for ordinary circulating coinage. Christie and I elected to do the latter, perhaps the only guests to do so (for we saw no others in evidence once we went down to the lower area). We were fortunate to have Don Butler, supervisor of the security staff, as our personal tour guide. It isn't very often that the U.S. Assay Office has visitors, so giving us a tour was a special privilege, he told us.

Going down to the lower level, we first saw several gigantic presses which took undulating wide strips of metal and stamped blank planchets from them, creating an ear-splitting din. One huge machine in particular churned out a whole handful of dollar planchets each time the punches came crashing down. Perhaps as a contrast to the white-painted proof presses, the planchet punches and coining presses in the production level were all painted bright green.

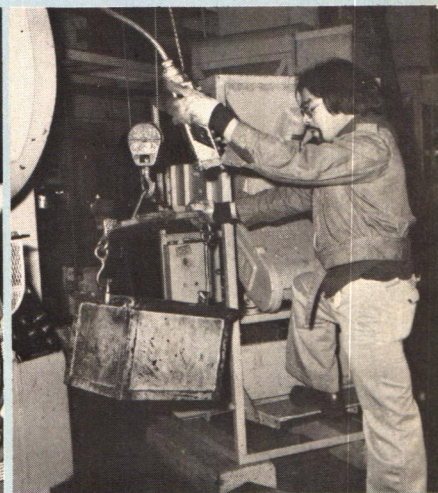

From that point we went into the production facility where many presses were busily churning out a coppery cascade of Lincoln cents and bins full of bright silver-appearing Anthony dollars. The cents in particular were susceptible to high-speed production and were being made faster than the eye could follow. It was indeed a rare privilege to be able to go among the presses, photograph what we wanted and to have various people there eager to demonstrate anything we cared to see or ask about.

The end result, a binful of newly-minted dollar coins. Too bad that souvenirs weren't being given out, for what a treasure each would be, as specimens were not to be released into circulation until several months later, in July.

A numismatist to the end, here is an apt portrait of me in front of the bronze elevator doors depicting a coin press and stacks of freshly-minted coins.

During our visit in this room of wonders we spent nearly an hour watching thousands of coins being produced (cent and dollar denominations; other issues were not being made that day), the changing of dies, preparation of planchets, counting and handling, shaking of coins through a sieve (to remove oversize pieces), and so on. It was indeed a thrill.

After a most enjoyable visit we returned to the reception area, took a final few pictures, including one of me in front of bronze elevator doors depicting a coining press, gathered our effects and went through the third or fourth electronic security scanning of the day. We then reclaimed our pocket change, given by us earlier to the receptionist and put in a paper envelope, and departed for the streets of San Francisco.

All in all it was an enjoyable first-hand view of history in the making — an experience we will never forget.

From Your President

Grover C. Criswell

As I write this last article as your president, it is with a feeling of sadness at leaving this office which I have enjoyed so much. I leave, though, with a feeling of pride because you, the members, have been kept informed of what is going on. Never more will the association be burdened, I hope, with smoky back-room meetings, barring the membership and the press as well.

The recent statements made by a group known as the "Save the ANA Committee" are a joke. Membership is on the increase and donations to the association are 24% above last year, two large donations not being included in this total.

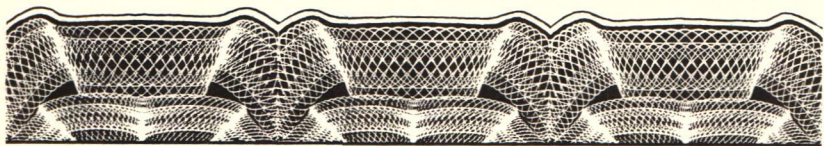

So . . . my policies have provoked some arguments and friction between board members. To my way of thinking, that's a plus for the clean air lovers in the ANA. It's time board members took an open stand on important issues and not only allowed, but encouraged, membership participation. Such activity can only lead to a stronger association as well as a more honest and more open board, with elected officers who dare not be unresponsive to the majority.

I ran for re-election to the board because I feel there is a lot yet to be accomplished. I know I can continue to contribute time and energy in a worthwhile manner, and I can certainly assure the membership of my cooperation with and support of president-elect George Hatie. George is an outstanding individual who has done yeoman work for the association these many years, starting as legal counsel, then as governor and twice as vice president. I know his thoughts are as mine, as I sign this final message.

Yours for a strong and vibrant ANA,

Grover C.

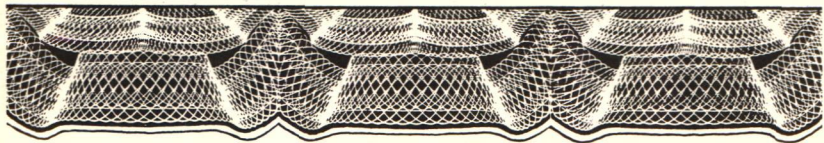

Signature Combinations
on

United States Currency

1888 - 1929

by John R. Isted, NLG
LM 2054

United States Old Series Currency, popularly called "Large-size," was printed and issued from 1861 to 1929 and bears the authorizing signatures of at least two Treasury officials. This article will focus on those notes which display the signature combinations of the Register of the Treasury (the Register) and the Treasurer of the United States (the Treasurer) which appear on United States Notes (or Legal Tenders), Silver Certificates, and Gold Certificates printed during the fiscal years from 1888 to 1929.

These various signature combinations are important to the collector as they constitute varieties within a Series.¹ For example, the popular "Bison" note (1901 Series, $10 United States Note) was printed and issued from fiscal year 1902 through fiscal year 1926. During these 25 years 148,958,000 notes were printed with the production total divided between nine combinations of the authorizing signatures of the Register and the Treasurer.²

The question of how many notes were printed bearing certain combinations of the signatures of the Register and the Treasurer has long been asked by paper money collectors and researchers. Early attempts at answering this question involved compiling the production data from the Annual Reports of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. But this was to little or no avail because the Annual Reports were compiled on a fiscal year basis, while the tenure of the Register and Treasurer was often vacated and filled during a fiscal year.

For example, the tenure of Register Gabe E. Parker and Treasurer John Burke began on October 1, 1913 and ended December 31, 1914; however, the Annual Reports were compiled from July 1 to June 30. How then can the researcher decide which part of the production belongs to Parker-Burke and which portion to their predecessors and successors? The Annual Reports did not specify production by signature combination, but were only concerned with the correct number of notes printed and delivered to the Treasury for issue to the public. A classic dilemma for the researcher: inadequate records.

The lack of official documentation has shifted the focus of research away from records to the tedious task of observing serial numbers to determine the quantity of notes printed per signature combination. Of course, the main drawback of observing serial number ranges to determine production is that seldom does the researcher find the exact cut-off point of a signature combination and the exact beginning of the next. In other words, it would require that two notes be found bearing successive signature combinations and serial numbers in sequence. Two notes which do this are called a "change-over pair." Change-over pairs are seldom encountered, and certainly not enough to answer the question of how many notes were printed for the many signature combinations and denominations.

For certain series and denominations change-over pairs are of limited value. Occasionally the Bureau would print a few notes with an old plate (that had been shelved) bearing the signatures of the authorizing officials who had been in office the previous term. This deviation from normal production practices is called "reversion." The change-over pair in this case would signify that the majority of the production to follow bears the signatures of the authorities then in office.

Also, along these lines, it must be emphasized that the official changes of signatures did take place on a specified date;³ this is all too evident in the Bureau's records. In most cases involving the production of a high-volume note many presses were running simultaneously with impressions of the note. When the official change of signatures did take place, only some of the presses were immediately fitted with the new plates bearing the signatures of

About the Author

Trained as a historian at the Graduate History Department of the University of California in Los Angeles, John R. Isted is currently on the staff of Kagin's in Des Moines, Iowa. He is a life member of the ANA and NLG, in addition to being a member of the American Numismatic Society, the International Bank Note Society, and the Society of Paper Money Collectors. Other articles on paper money by Isted have been published in various numismatic journals. Non-numismatic affiliations include the Organization of American Historians, and the American Association of University Professors.

the authorities that had just taken office. Thus, some of the presses continued to print with old plates, and these were replaced over a period of time with the new plates bearing the new authorizing signatures. All the notes, whether signed by those officials who just left office or by those who just took office, were put through the numbering machinery which was numbering with the new block letter and serial numbers. In some instances the block letter remained the same and the numbering continued in sequence.

This phenomenon, it must be emphasized, occurred with notes that were produced in high volume, such as the 1917 Series $1 United States Note, or the 1899 Series $1 Silver Certificate. Low-volume notes did not suffer from this confusion. Low-volume production involved the use of just one or two presses, and these could be fitted with new plates at once; therefore other presses were not running using plates bearing the signatures of the officials who were no longer in office.

Thus, most of the mixing of serial numbers and signature combinations (which has often been referred to as "reversions") occurred as a result of "overlapping." Overlapping and reversions are two entirely different matters.

The change-over pair in the case of overlapping would signify the official change of authorizing signatures but not the precise termination of one set and the beginning of another. But the change-over pair in all cases (be it reversion or overlapping) is an indicator that the majority of the production to follow will bear the authorizing signatures of the newly appointed officials. This has been established through the observation of the frequency of the availability of notes bearing the old set of signatures in relation to notes bearing the new set of signatures.

Observation of serial numbers can be of limited value when a serial-number-run ends before reaching a logical conclusion, such as 100,000,000, and does not continue in numerical sequence to the next signature combination. Now the researcher can not look for the change-over pair to indicate production totals, but can only search endlessly for the highest serial-numbered note, which was most likely destroyed by natural causes or redeemed.

A case-in-point is the signature combination bearing the names of Register James C. Napier and Treasurer Carmi A. Thompson which appears on the 1899 Series $5 Silver Certificate. It has long been suspected that the production total for this signature combination was very small. This suspicion is based on three factors: 1) their tenure in office lasted only four months and nine days, 2) very few notes have been observed bearing their signatures and 3) there are no reported cases of overlapping or reversions.

No conclusive answer has been given to the question of how many notes were printed with their signatures because the signature combination's serial number range was confined to the H Block. The crux of the problem is that the printage did not complete the H Block, which in this case would have been 100,000,000 notes, and therefore the researcher must endlessly observe serial numbers to record the "new highest discovered."

Walter Breen has studied the Napier-Thompson signature combination for the note in question and reports an observed serial number range from H3 to H1 775 861, thereby indicating that at least 1,775,861 notes were printed.⁴ Nevertheless, this does not give us the exact amount printed because no one can be sure he has found the highest numbered note.

To make the point of how important official records are to numismatic knowledge, recently discovered documents show that production began for the Napier-Thompson notes on December 26, 1912, with H1 and ceased on May 23, 1913, with H2 324 000.⁵ Thus 2,324,000 Napier-Thompson notes were printed for the 1899 Series $5 Silver Certificate (popularly called the "Chief" or "Indian" note).

These newly discovered documents have also confirmed what few researchers have feared: certain production runs were destroyed, thus making the highest serial number much higher than the actual printage. For example, Bureau records show that the serial numbered notes M1 to M10 000 000 for the William S. Elliott and Frank White signature combination for the 1907 $5 United States Note were destroyed.⁶ This not only leaves a great gap in serial number observation, but puts the highest printed serial number beyond the actual production that was delivered to the Treasury for issue to the public.

Breen has published an observed low serial number of M10 188 033 for the note in question, which is remarkably close to the first note delivered to the Treasury for issue, i.e., M10 000 001.⁷ Gene Hessler gives as the total for number of notes printed (which includes all signature combinations) for the 1907 Series $5 note as 440,128,000,⁸ to which Breen states that "SN (serial number) data indicate that the true amount may be higher, unless some SN ranges were omitted from the known blocks."⁹ These long-shelved Bureau of Engraving and Printing documents confirm Breen's assumptions that "some of the (serial number) blocks contained gaps."¹⁰

Thus, the belief of this researcher that the utilization of official records coupled with the observation of serial number ranges will ultimately untangle the web of confusion that surrounds production with regards to signature combinations can now be somewhat substantiated with these newly discovered records. It must be pointed out that not all signature combinations for all series and denominations are complete as a result of this research. Moreover, certain signature combination production totals may never be known but only partially answered through the observation of serial number ranges, due to the destruction or accidental loss of records, and the use of overlapping and reversions. Research is continuing, however, and information will be published as it becomes available. Our biggest task is to take the existing information and separate the reversions from the overlapping serial numbers to better enable us to determine the exact number of high-volume notes produced per signature combination.

The following tables which show the number of notes printed for certain signature combinations appearing on U.S. currency should be used by the collector in conjunction with books and catalogs listing United States paper money.¹¹ By knowing the number of notes printed per signature combination, the collector has a better idea of the relative rarity of a piece of currency. For example, the Napier-Thompson 1899 Series $5 Silver Certificate, with 2,324,000 printed, should be rarer than a note of the same series and denomination bearing the signatures of James C. Napier and Lee McClung, which had a printage of 54,820,000 notes.¹²

Special thanks must go to H. T. Krisak, Joseph Prunka, and James Homanich, all of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, whose devotion to the preservation and cataloguing of records made this knowledge possible; and to Lyn F. Knight, professional numismatist, who financed the research.

This figure could be slightly lower or higher because the M Block, after Serial M24 796 001, was printed concurrently with Woods-White.

*Total printage for the 1907 Series of 462,034,000 notes falls 1,886,000 notes short of the observed high. Breen reports a high of M50 190 628 which is 1,886,628 higher than the printage figures, which allows a maximum of 48,304,000 notes printed in the M Block. In other words, the S-W and W-W sigs. require a combined printage total of 175,574,628 notes, instead of the combined totals of 173,688,000 notes which is the present figure. Two explanations are: 1) observation of highest serial in M Block is in error, or 2) a run of notes, probably near the end of the M Block, was destroyed and not replaced with Star Notes. This was the case with the M1 - M10 000 000 notes. Thus, the M Block printage may have serial numbers above M50 000 000 but have an actual printage far short of the highest serial numbered note.

Notes

1. A "Class" of notes (for example, Silver Certificates or Gold Certificates) is usually composed of many "Series." Each Series is designated by a year (for example, 1899 Series) and in some instances known by a title (Department Series, for example). The Series is composed of "Denominations," which begin with the $1 note for large-size currency.

AND THE DUTTON BANK

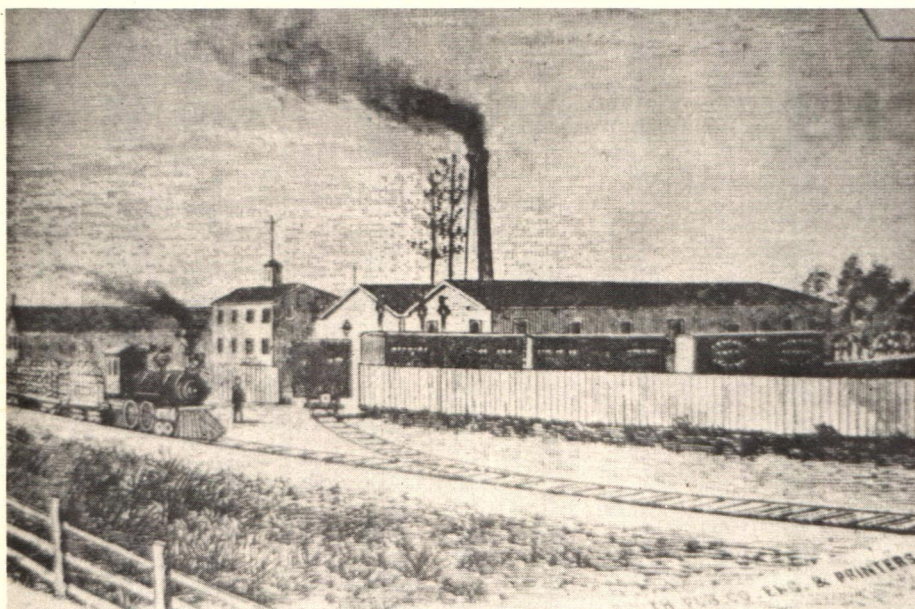

by Mike Carter, ANA 82392

In the early 1870's Gainesville, Florida, was a bustling town of just over 300 inhabitants. It had a post office, which was established in 1866, that handled an average of 3000 letters a week, and the area was known for the diversity of its crops such as rice, millet, corn, sorghum cane, oranges, and cotton. Cotton was king in those days; its production brought great wealth to men and prosperity to areas of the South. Gainesville was one such area that King Cotton smiled upon, and it owes much of what it is today to cotton and the bank that was established because of cotton.

Shortly after the Civil War, a Union veteran from Vermont, Col. H.F. Dutton, and John G. Nichols of Massachusetts were engaged in buying Sea Island cotton from South Carolina under the name of John G. Nichols and Company. Shortly after 1870, Col. Dutton moved to Florida and settled in Gainesville where he established the firm of H.F. Dutton and Company for the purpose of buying and ginning the area's cotton crops. Dutton bought directly from the planters and paid cash for all his purchases. The planters had been trading off their cotton for dry goods, groceries, hardware, and taxes, but now they could get gold for their cotton and pay their bills in cash.

As a result of Dutton paying higher prices for the finer grades of long cotton, planters were encouraged to improve their crops and the quality of their cotton. They purchased seed from South Carolina growers and studied their techniques for planting and growing the fine fibered Sea Island cotton for which they had been known for over 100 years. The Gainesville area

Sea Island cotton became so fine, in fact, that it took a medal at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia and at the Paris Exposition in 1878. At the Atlanta Cotton Exposition, where it was compared with Carolina cotton, it took first place in the judging. So high was its reputation to foreign lace-makers and those who made it into spool cotton that the Willimantic Spool Thread Company began purchasing it to the tune of $600,000 a year and shipping it to their plant in Connecticut.

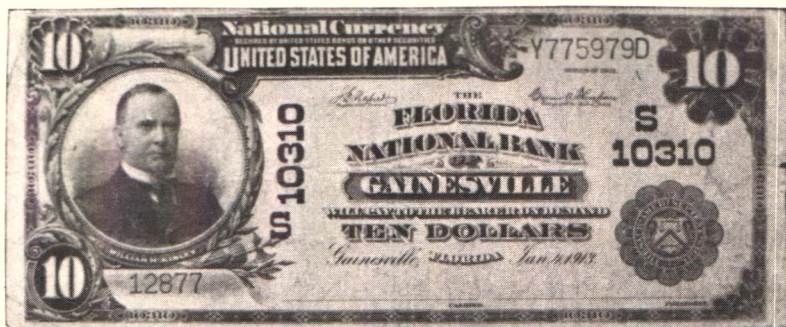

After a few years John Nichols closed down his operation in South Carolina and joined Dutton in Gainesville. Walter G. Robinson of Rhode Island joined the firm as head of the cotton department. Robinson was to later become a power in the Republican party of Florida and at one time the receiver of the United States Land Office in Gainesville. Business did so well that in 1873 Dutton and Company opened a bank to facilitate its own business. At that time the Dutton Bank was one of only three banks in the entire state of Florida. By 1886 the bank had grown to where a new building was constructed in the heart of town. While the bank was not large compared to banks there now, it still played a very important part in the financial position of the county and city.

In the 1890's Dutton and Company engaged in the mining of phosphate rock, an industry which had its beginnings near Gainesville with the discovery of phosphate rock in Florida in 1879.

About 1900 the business of phosphate mining was incorporated under the name of the Dutton Phosphate Company. Most of the rock was shipped to Germany to be processed for commercial use. With the coming of World War I the European markets closed, and the company eventually went out of business.

Dutton and Company continued in the cotton business until about 1910, when the boll weevil began to interfere with the growing of long staple cotton and virtually wiped out the cotton industry in Florida. Now the phosphate and cotton segments of the H.F. Dutton Company were gone, but what about the banking? It, too, was in for a strange turn of events.

In 1906 the bank's cashier, Dr. B.P. Richards, died and was succeeded by E.D. Turner, who had started with the bank in 1902 as a collection clerk with the idea that he would take the job to tide him over until he could start his own law practice. In the summer of 1907, Turner was called into the office of Col. Dutton and told that because of advancing age and the death of Robinson, Dutton and Nichols had decided to go out of business and that a letter was being sent out to all depositors requesting that they come in and withdraw all their deposits within the next 30 to 60 days. He said that most people would probably transfer their accounts to the First National or other banks but that Turner was supposed to ship in whatever cash was needed to take care of all depositors.

A few days after the letter was sent out, Major W.R. Thomas of Gainesville began the process of organizing the Dutton bank under a state charter with himself as president and Turner as cashier. The bank was still alive and would continue to operate in the same location. A 1910 Gainesville City Directory listed the Dutton Bank as "the oldest bank in central Florida" with full paid capital of $75,000 and surplus and undivided profits of $85,000. It also went on to say that the bank was a state, county, and city depository, with four percent paid on time deposits and office hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The officers were W.R. Thomas, president; G.K. Broome, 1st vice president; W.B. Taylor, 2nd vice president; and E.D. Turner, secretary and cashier. The directors were G.K. Broome, J.B. Padgett, H.F. Dutton, J.A. Maultsby, Monroe Venable, W.R. Thomas, and W.B. Taylor. In 1914, the Dutton Bank and the Gainesville National Bank consolidated and continued business in the Gainesville National Bank building.

The Gainesville National Bank was chartered in July, 1907, with a capital of $100,000. The bank was given charter number 8802 and issued red seals, dated backs, and blue seals of the third charter period 1902 Series national bank notes. The bank had a total circulation issue of $736,550 in five, ten, and twenty denominations with $100,000 shown to be still outstanding in 1918. In a 1913-1914 issue of a Gainesville City Directory an ad read: four percent interest on savings, safety deposit boxes for one dollar a year rent, a complete ladies department, and that they "especially solicit the accounts of the ladies." Another very interesting fact listed in the 1913/14 issue was the officers of the bank: T.W. Shands, president; F.M. Brannon, vice president; W.R. Steckert, vice president; W.H. Burdick, cashier; and J.W. Blanding, assistant cashier. However, in the 1915-1916 edition of the directory, the officers were listed as: W.R. Thomas, president; G.K. Broome, vice-president; J.B. Padgett, vice-president; F.M. Brannon, vice-president; W.B. Taylor, chairman of the board; E.D. Turner, cashier; and W.H. Burdick, assistant cashier; almost the same men in the same positions that they had when they were with the Dutton Bank and this is nearly two years after the two banks consolidated. The Gainesville National Bank was placed in voluntary liquidation on December 27, 1918, with capital of $100,000, and was absorbed by charter #10310, The Florida National Bank of Gainesville.

The Florida National was established as the Phifer Brothers, Bankers, in May 1907. It remained a private bank until it was granted a State Charter in 1913 and became the Phifer State Bank. In 1946 it became a member of the Florida National Group of Banks and was renamed the Florida Bank at Gainesville. On March 1, 1954, it was renamed a fourth time the Florida National Bank at Gainesville. The bank issued $1,331,050 of third charter 1902 Series dated and plain backs in five, ten, and twenty dollar denominations, all interestingly enough with the name Florida National Bank of Gainesville imprinted on the notes. There was $200,000 outstanding on the bank in 1922. The Florida National Bank of Gainesville is still in existence today as one of the largest banks in the city.

We have traced the history of the banks in one city, all of whose existence is the result of a bank born 105 years ago from cotton. Gainesville today is a city with a metropolitan population over 125,000, but the old Dutton Bank building is still standing downtown more or less as a reminder to all Gainesville citizens that it played a very important part in making Gainesville what it is today.

New, Improved ANA Life Group Insurance

The ANA Life Insurance Plan, which has been providing low-cost insurance protection to members since 1973, now offers broader coverage on a guarantee-acceptance basis during a Special Summer Enrollment Period.

By acting before the deadline on October 1, 1979, members under age 45 may apply for $20,000 coverage (previously limited to $10,000), and members ages 45 through 54 may apply for $10,000 coverage. Acceptance is guaranteed if the member can answer "no" to three health questions on the enrollment application — no more is required.

And for the first time, a member's spouse is eligible for the same coverage at the same rates by meeting the same eligibility requirements.

A spouse may apply even if the member doesn't.

"I am pleased to announce the addition of the Spouse Plan," said Albert H. Wohlers, administrator of ANA group insurance plans. "We had received many requests from members who wanted guarantee-acceptance life insurance for their spouses, too. What these members realize is that raising a family is a joint responsibility . . . the loss of either partner could result in financial hardship which could be alleviated by a sound life insurance program for both."

Members will soon receive complete details and enrollment applications in the mail. For further information, please contact the ANA insurance administrator, Albert H. Wohlers & Co., ANA Group Insurance Plans, 1500 Higgins Road, Park Ridge, IL 60068.

numismatic vignettes

by Glenn B. Smedley

■ So what's new? "You see, it's just this way. Hardly any good, rare coins or stamps are circulating at large. Almost everything has been picked up by collectors." Statement by an anonymous dealer in The Numismatist, October, 1904.

■ "The rarest U.S. silver dollar . . . perhaps the most valuable coin in the world." "The golden doubloon (Brasher, 1787) is expected to realize more than $300,000, which would be a world's record price for any coin sold at public auction." These statements appeared almost simultaneously regarding pieces to be sold by reputable dealers this summer.

We all know that rarity alone does not establish the market price of a numismatic item — there must be a demand, however restricted, for it. What creates the demand? Generally, one of two things, or a combination of them. Investment potential — can I realize a profit — how much — how soon? Ego-building — I have a rarity that you don't have and probably can't buy! Of course, having the money with which to buy it is important, also.

■ Numismatic Vignettes is not usually used to promote specific products or services but here's a factual report — take it as you choose. The ANA insurance administrator has informed headquarters that it recently issued a check in the amount of $6,040 to a member who was enrolled in the Group Hospital Protection Program. He was hospitalized for osteomyelitis of a heel for 151 days.

■ "Our dollar today is worth only 50¢." When you read or hear that statement, do you ask: "Compared to what and when?" Actually, a dollar you earned in 1967 and saved "for a rainy day" will buy only half as much today as when you earned it. That's bad, but read on.

Practically all Federal price comparisons today are made on the basis of 1967 being 100. But many of us remember when the 1957-59 average was the 100 base, on which today's dollar is worth 44¢. Not so many but some of us remember the base of 1935-39 being 100, compared to which today's dollar equals 24¢.

When I was born in 1902 my dad took out a $2000 life insurance policy in my name. That seemed like quite a bit of money to a Central Illinois farm boy. Why, only a few years later it would have bought a Ford car! Suppose my three daughters were to collect and share that policy now, what would each receive in 1902 dollars? $667? $333 (½)? $167 (¼)? The sad answer is $88.71, or 13.3¢ on the dollar.

The 1979 mini-dollar is visual evidence of the fiscal decline of the once mighty United States of America. The great Bolshevik leader, Nikolai Lenin, spoke wisely when he said, "The best way to destroy the capitalist system is to debauch the currency."

■ Probably very few of us know that the Treasury Department still has the authority to call in all gold coins. Two congressmen have introduced bills calling for repeal of the enabling section of the Federal Reserve Act that has never been voided. The ANA legislative counsel is pressing for this repeal.

The "First" First National Bank

by Dean Oakes, LM 510

Davenport, Iowa was the site of the first National Bank to open and operate its banking business under the National Banking Act of 1863. The first deposits, over $80,000, and the first check written were part of the first day's business on Monday, June 29, 1863, a full two days before any other national bank in the United States opened for business. How did this happen out in Iowa, just west of the Mississippi, well over a thousand miles from the nation's capital and an equal distance from the great financial centers of the East? This article will review some of the known history surrounding the founding of this bank and the currency it issued.

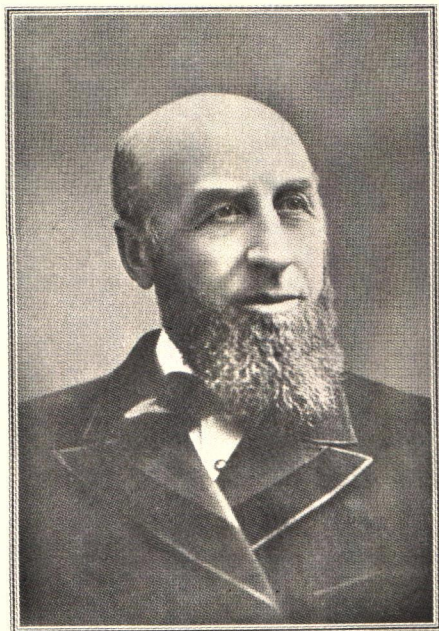

Davenport, Iowa, had grown from a few log cabins in 1836 to 300 people when Iowa was given territorial status in 1838. By the time Iowa statehood was gained in 1846, Davenport and the surrounding Scott county population was over 3000. Most of Davenport's commerce was tied to the Mississippi River, and when the hard freeze of winter set in every year, shipments to St. Louis stopped. The need for credit increased until the spring thaw when money and commerce would flow freely once again, a need which was realized in 1847 when Ebenezer Cook and John L. Sargent opened a bank of deposit and exchange along with their land agency.

This bank was followed by a bank of discount, deposit and exchange founded by Jno. Macklot and Austin Corbin in 1852, with a capital of $10,000. Corbin was associated with this banking house until mid-1861 when he retired (only to become, two years later, the main founder and president of The First National Bank of Davenport).

Many banks opened and closed in those early pre-Civil War days. "Money" was made up of Eastern drafts, local merchants' checks and notes, fractional credit slips and other pieces of printed paper purporting to be money. As the Civil War drew nearer, all hard money—gold, silver and even copper coin — vanished into the deepest purses, to see daylight even less frequently than before. When gold and silver coin were available, it was at 10%-15% premium over Eastern bank notes, which were selling at par. Most of the local issues of bank notes and checks noting future payment traded at 80%-85% of par in late 1858 and soon were not accepted at all.

Sagging government credit faced Salmon P. Chase, President Lincoln's appointee for Secretary of the Treasury, along with increased demand for money to fight the Civil War. Secretary Chase's actions were clear and sound as he appraised Congress in December of 1861 of the need for giving the people a money in which they could have faith and which could be used in any part of the country. He also stated a need for a system of national banks to accept and circulate this new federal money. The new legal tender issues of United States currency started coming off the presses soon after. It took over 14 months and the close voting of Congress before President Lincoln signed into law the National Currency Act on February 26, 1863. The next day, the Treasury Department received from Corbin and Dow an application for a charter as The First National Bank of Davenport.

It was almost three months before the articles of association were received from the Comptroller of the Currency, and on May 25, 1863, the general subscription lists were opened to the public. It took only three days for the $100,000 in capital to be subscribed to by some 80 citizens of the Davenport community. On June 22, 1863, the Comptroller of the Currency assigned Charter #15 to the Davenport stockholders and empowered several banks to begin business. Having been agreed upon by the board, public notice to begin business was given on the 26th of June, 1863. Three days later, and by that act, the first First National Bank of the United States opened its doors.

From the 80 founding stockholders representing the major businessmen and community leaders, came the officers and directors. These people were public spirited and helped inspire trust in the new bank, trust that generated deposits so that the bank was able to declare a five percent dividend from profits at the end of its first quarter of business. This same good management stayed on and enabled the bank to prosper all through its 20 year charter period, 1863-1882.

Almost a year went by before the first issue of notes of the bank were received and issued. The first notes received were 5,200 five dollar bills in sheets of four notes each and numbered from 1 to 1040. A year later, January of 1865, the first one and two dollar bills were received and put into circulation. These were Original Series notes and bear the earliest plate date of any two dollar National Bank notes, January 2, 1865.

In all, The First National Bank of Davenport issued in Original Series:

- 1- 1- 1- 2 plate $17,500 worth;
serials #1 to #3500
- 5- 5- 5- 5 plate $73,800 worth;
serials #1 to #3690
- 10-10-10-20 plate $120,000 worth;
serials #1 to #2400
- In Series of 1875:
- 10-10-10-20 plate $3,100 worth;
serials #1 to #62

The total issue of notes was $214,400, of which, at its close in 1882, $45,000 was still outstanding. This amount was decreased to only $2,009 in 1910, according to the records of the Comptroller of the Currency.

The Lazy Two note pictured is one of two such notes known to survive today. The note #1079 probably was not in the first group of notes that was received by the bank. The date of its issue can be verified by the officers signing the note: Ira M. Gifford, cashier, and J.E. Stevenson, vice-president. These men served in these offices from June 19, 1865, to January 10, 1867, when Ira M.

Ira M. Gifford
The Third President

Gifford became the third president of the bank, so this note would have been issued during that time.

Much more could be said about these stockholders, men who, because of foresight and belief in a strong banking system, had the honor of being part of the first National Bank in the United States to open its doors to the public, to accept deposits and make loans. If for only two days it enjoyed this distinction, it will be a permanent part of banking history. The note pictured has the distinction of being handled and trusted by hundreds of people, people who kept the note, not because they could not spend it (as with many notes of its day), but because they knew that they could always spend it, that it was as good as any money they had. And like collectors today, someone may have prized this bill because it came from the first First National Bank to do business in the United States, The First National Bank of Davenport, Iowa.

Compromise of 1850 Medal

A moving and poignant ceremony took place on February 9, 1852. Gathered in the private rooms of Henry Clay at the National Hotel in Washington, D.C., were the President of the United States, Zachary Taylor, numerous Senators and Representatives, and personal friends of Mr. Clay. Clay was by then an old man, confined to his rooms by illness for an extended period and obviously near the end of his illustrious career. The occasion for the gathering was ostensibly to present Clay with a gold medal, privately subscribed for by the citizens of New York, honoring his preeminent role in the Compromise of 1850. Daniel Ullman, the head of the New York delegation, remarked that, "All national medals hitherto struck in this country have been commemorative of the triumphs of American arms, but, 'Peace hath her victories, no less renown'd than war.' Then let the triumphs of peace have their memorial honors, too. And let the first American victor of peace, thus commemorated, be the man who, for a whole age, has ranked as the first citizen of the Great Republic."

However, the occasion was much more; it was a valedictory to Clay and he recognized it as such. "I shall soon pass from the jurisdiction of my contemporaries and of the present generation, to that of history and posterity, if the one shall deem me worthy of any record on its pages, or tradition shall transmit any recollection of me to the other."

The following day, the Washington National Intelligencer would note, "During the delivery of this beautiful and appropriate reply, the most perfect silence pervaded the chamber; every eye was fixed on the tall and commanding form so long known to the public; but respect and admiration were mingled with a tender regret on witnessing the evident struggle between the unimpaired vigor of the mind and the feebleness of its now emaciated and shaken tenement. Yet the eyes still glittered with unsubdued lustre, and at times, the tones of his voice rose into an emphasis which reminded one of ancient days."

The medal presented Clay was every bit worthy of its illustrious recipient. It was made of pure California gold, 9mm in thickness and a massive 90mm in diameter. The obverse portrait was designed by Thomas Dow Jones, later to become famous for his Lincoln monument at Columbus, Ohio. The reverse design is a wreath, in which the six chief American staples — wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and hemp — are intertwined. The wreath surrounds an eighteen line historical highlight of Clay's career. This design was the work of another well-known Ohio sculptor, William Walcutt.

Happily, the eminently talented Charles Cushing Wright was employed to hand cut the steel dies and his fine hand is evident in the strong portraiture. The medal was struck at the U.S. Mint (Julian PE-7). Besides the one in gold, one hundred fifty were struck in bronze. These specimens were placed in a leather case with red velvet lining and were sold, when originally published, for $30!

Also accompanying the bronze medal, although now seldom seen, was an 8"x16" silk on which was imprinted an extract from the Washington National Intelligencer of February 10, 1852, entitled PRESENTATION OF A MEDAL TO MR. CLAY. The article details the presentation ceremony, Clay's reply, and a discussion of the medal. — H.J.L.

Our Apologies to Mr. Gaspar

The editor and staff of The Numismatist would like to extend their profound apologies to Peter P. Gaspar of St. Louis, Missouri, for the inadvertent absence of his name from the list of Heath Literary Award recipients published in the June issue of The Numismatist, page 1207. Mr. Gaspar co-authored with Eric P. Newman the article entitled, "The Philadelphia Highway Coin Find." His achievement will be duly recognized at the convention where he will be presented a Heath Literary Award at the awards ceremony on Thursday, August 2, 1979.

Conclusion of Fantasy Ingot Listing

by Ed Fleischmann

This month's listing of the reverses used with the fantasy ingots of the Wells Fargo Company, Pacific Co., Moffat & Co., etc., concludes the three-part catalogue of these "paperweights" that are all too often represented as being genuine ingots made of precious metals by the company that is named on the obverses. We are certain that we've missed a few, especially some that are different mulings of those shown.

There is an unanswered question on reverses 3, 4, 5, 11, 12 and 16. Those reverses have an emblem, probably the manufacturer, that we have never been able to explain. Reverse 5 has an oval with H.E.C. around the top, a W in the center and an 8 and 16 at the bottom. Reverses 3, 4, 5, and 12 have a circle with C D, left and right, and an upward pointing arrow separating the two letters. Does anyone have any idea about the origin of the emblems?

Virgil Hancock's

Now, before you all rush down to the bank to get a cashier's check for $775 to send to me for all three "gems" pictured here. . . $775 for the bunch, all three as a set. . . you'd better stop, look, listen!

You'd better locate a current copy of "the COIN DEALER newsletter" . . . also known to coin dealers as the "Gray Sheet" because that's its color. The Gray Sheet comes out once a week. It lists a compilation of all the "buy" and "sell" figures of dealer-to-dealer teletype sales transactions during the previous week. Thus its listed prices are never more than one week old. The teletype does not list sales to collectors, but solely what one dealer paid another dealer for each certain coin.

So, if you see such a "fire-sale" priced advertisement as pictured here, compare its pricing with the actual dealer-to-dealer sales prices of the current Gray Sheet.

The May '79 Gray Sheet, the month in which this ad appeared in print, reports sales of those three commemoratives at these wholesale prices . . .

Isabella quarter Gem BU (Mint State-65)	$325.00
Alabama half Gem BU (MS-65)	280.00
Missouri half Gem BU (MS-65)	770.00
The dealers' "buy" price in May was	$1,375.00

Keep in mind that a total of $1,375.00 was what most legit dealers would pay in May for those three advertised "Gem BU" commemoratives.

Just to check, I drove over into Houston, visited Royal Coins of Houston, and told them that I was thinking of selling my three MS-65 commemoratives. They got out their Gray Sheet and offered me the Gray Sheet's $1,375 "buy" price.

Next, I visited Pat Johnson's Houston Numismatic Exchange. There I also asked the same question, what they thought I could get for my three MS-65 commemoratives. Out came the Gray Sheet showing its dealer "buy" price of $1,375. For the MS-65 Isabella quarter, Houston Numismatic Exchange offered the same $325 per the Gray Sheet. For the Alabama half they upped the ante to $290.00. And for the Missouri half they'd pay only $750. A total of $1,365.00. However, they said, if I brought in the coins and if they actually were MS-65 or a shade better, Houston Numismatic Exchange might go as high as $1,450.00 for the three coins.

Featuring Fakes

Nobody in his right mind . . .

Thus, Folks, you'll agree that no dealer in his right mind would go to the expense of having a pricelist printed, then spending the postage to mail his list all around the U.S., go to the trouble and office expense of invoicing, packing, and shipping those three commemoratives, all for only $775 . . . when on that same date almost every other dealer in the land would have paid him at least $1,375 for that set of three "Gem BU" (MS-65) commemoratives . . . $600.00 more than is listed in my above pictured ad . . . if the coins actually were "Gem BU." For some 13 years in my "Featuring Fakes" pages, I've been trying to warn collectors against "bait" advertising and "fire sale" prices.

The coin collecting market has been and is booming.

Nobody, nobody, nobody is going to sell you any genuine, unaltered, properly graded coin for a "bargain" price.

In the past 13 years, I don't think there's been a day when the postman failed to deliver from at least one collector a plea for help to recover his money spent on an overgraded, altered, or counterfeit coin.

At ANA headquarters, there are days when Ken Hallenbeck spends more than half his time in trying to help ANA members who've fallen for a "bargain" offered by someone who is not an ANA member, but may be a former ANA member who's been expelled.

Seeking a solution, your ANA is putting together plans for a new class of ANA membership . . . "ANA Accredited Professional Numismatist" (ANA/APN).

ANA up to now has never had a membership category for coin businesses, partnerships, nor "dba" ("doing business as") names.

Requirements for ANA/APN membership will be honesty, expertise in the numismatic area in which the applicant specializes, and prompt "AA" ("as agreed") meeting of financial obligations.

Length of time as a dealer and annual dollar volume of sales will not be the major influence in awarding the ANA/APN emblem. But after three years as an ANA/APN member, the dealer would come up for review for renewal, and for each three years thereafter.

Models Completed for '79 St. Louis Convention Medal

Completed models for this year's convention medal serve as a dual commemoration, honoring both the 88th Anniversary Convention of the American Numismatic Association and the 75th Anniversary of the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904. The World's Fair, officially known as the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, itself commemorated the centennial of the signing of the Louisiana Purchase, which opened the way for American western expansion and for St. Louis to become the gateway to the West.

St. Louisan H. Richard Duhme, Jr., sculptured a replica of Karl Bitter's bronze, "Signing of the Purchase Treaty," that was part of the hundred-foot tall Louisiana Purchase Monument at the fair, for the medal's obverse. The principals of the signing — Robert R. Livingston, James Monroe, and Francois Marbois — are shown just as the signing of the document was completed. JULY 29 · AUGUST 2 · 1979/EIGHTY-EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY CONVENTION is carved near the lower rim. (The August 3 date shown on the models was altered at a later date.) The medal's reverse features the predominant symbol of the 1904 World's Fair, the Festival Hall and Cascades at the head of the Grand Basin. The reverse legend recalls the exposition and its anniversary.

Everyone who attends the convention will be required to register, but there will be no admission fee. Those who want a medallic name badge may purchase the 1-1/2 inch or 3/4 inch bronze for $4. The usual three-piece medal set, consisting of one bronze and one fine silver in 1-1/2 inch size and one

3/4 inch bronze in a plastic holder, will be available at $21.

Because of the costliness of gold and the relatively small demand for the gold medals and badges produced the last few years, they have been discontinued. However, an innovation this year will be a 2-1/4 inch bronze medal, being struck in a very limited number, to be sold at the convention only for $15.

As in the case of recent conventions, many who plan to attend the convention will take advantage of preregistration to avoid the possibility of waiting in line to register upon arrival. In addition, one may reserve tour tickets and admission to other events that may be sell-outs to early arrivers.

Registration cards may be obtained from general chairman Bernice F. Stevenson, 19 Roclare Lane, St. Louis, MO 63131, or from ANA headquarters, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901. Each person 11 years of age or over must register separately, and there is a special card for young numismatists (age 11-17).

Featuring Young

Roman Coin Project

by David R. Cervin, ANA 65523

Numismatists

Originated and administered by David R. Cervin, the Roman Coin Project is a program specially designed for junior members of the ANA to earn Roman and Byzantine coins for their activities in numismatics. Up to eight coins can be earned, four Roman coins in the initial program, and four Byzantine coins in the advanced section.

In the initial program, the first three coins can be earned from numismatic participation in three of six categories: educational presentations, exhibiting, writing, club office, show committee chairmanship, or receiving a badge in numismatics from your youth group. The fourth coin must be earned by completing the ANA's Young Numismatists Correspondence Course. In the advance program coin number five is earned by signing up a new ANA member, coin number six by signing up two additional members, coin number seven for the publication of at least 500 words in a major numismatic publication, and coin number eight for planning and executing an exhibit of the coins earned thus far in the program.

For further information or a Roman Coin Request Form write David R. Cervin, 6201 Adirondack, Amarillo, TX 79106.

David MacPherson, Shippensburg, Pa., writes: "I have noticed in the RCP column that silver coins have been given away. I have not received a silver coin as yet, and I would really like one if it is possible." Dave, you had better believe that it is possible and you should be receiving a Roman silver coin in the next mail. Can other participants also receive a silver coin if they so request? Indeed they can. But before describing how, let's examine this chap, David MacPherson.

David was one of the early participants in the RCP. Actually he was number 49 to earn a Roman coin. David's first coin, a Licinius I, AD 307-324, was earned for writing an article for his school paper, "Why Collect Coins — Eight Good Reasons." This coin was sent to him on September 1, 1975. (By the way, Licinius, an infidel, was defeated by Constantine, Rome's first Christian Emperor, in 323. Constantine had Licinius put to death on the grounds that he had violated the Treaty of Milan which had offered, for the first time, protection to Christians.)

Shortly after, David received a coin of Empress Eudoxia, AD 395-404, for a talk he gave on ANA's Summer Seminar. On February 18, 1977, he earned a Valens I, AD 364-378 for committee work on a coin show. This he followed with an antoninianus of Gallienus AD 253-268, for completing the YNCC. David was number 34 to complete the Basic RCP.

In the Advanced RCP, David quickly earned coins Nos. 5 & 6 (Byzantine) for signing three new members to ANA. And writing an article in Coin World on "Alternative Collecting" earned coin No. 7 for David on March 8, 1979. Finally on May 10, 1979, David earned his eighth and final coin in the RCP for exhibiting his first seven Roman coins at Shippensburg Coin Club's annual show in early May. It is nice to report that David won first prize in the foreign coin category. However, winning an award is no prerequisite to earning a Byzantine coin. Thus David MacPherson becomes the ninth junior to complete the Roman Coin Project, certainly an achievement of no small import.

David will now receive a Byzantine coin as the eighth coin in the RCP series. But David wanted a silver coin very badly, so what is the justification for awarding this also? Simple! For completing the RCP, participants also receive a bonus coin, generally of their desires if such is feasible. A Roman silver coin is a modest request and therefore David will receive a silver Roman coin plus a Byzantine coin for this final endeavor in the RCP. His silver coin is an antoninianus of Probus, AD 276-282. He'll also receive a reprint of my own article on early dated Ano Domini coins.

How much did these nine Roman and Byzantine coins cost David? Nothing in coin of the realm. However, it did "cost" him some good hard work in numismatics over a three and one-half year period. Can you, any junior reading this, do what David has done? Indeed you can. All you have to do is get started.

Einstein Centenary — Israel State Medal

The Israel Government Coins and Medals Corporation has decided to commemorate Albert Einstein's centenary by issuing a state medal struck in 45mm silver and 59mm bronze.

Designed by Nathan Karp, the medal depicts, on the obverse, the portrait of Albert Einstein taken from the relief by B. Sturm van der Berg at the entrance to the Mathematics Institute of the Hebrew University. The reverse of the medal depicts a facsimile of Einstein's handwriting: a mathematical formula.

The medal was issued on the occasion of the Einstein Centennial Symposium, held in Jerusalem in March under the auspices of the Israel Academy of Sciences and Humanities, the Van Leer Jerusalem Foundation, the Hebrew University and the Jerusalem Foundation.

For further particulars, please write to Israel Government Coins and Medals Corporation, 5 Ahad Ha'am Street, Jerusalem.

ROMAN HISTORICAL PORTRAITS, by J. M. C. Toynbee. 1978. 208p. Hard cover. Illus. Cornell University Press, 124 Roberts Place, Ithaca, NY 14850. $35.

This book proves once again the value of numismatics to the study of other disciplines. The author has made a catalog of realistic, identifiable portraits of Republican and early Imperial notables as well as Roman rulers in foreign countries from the third century B.C. to the fifth century. As Ms. Toynbee states in the introduction, "the most authentic of the portraits that concern us here are those on coins." The specifications of the coins are not given except for the denomination and of course the date struck. However, in addition to a biography of the figure on the coin, the author has included in many cases a history of the coins and the mints which struck them. This book may be a help in identifying coins but its main value seems to be in providing background about one's current collection.

World Coin News

UNITED STATES — Production of the Susan B. Anthony Dollar Resumed

The Mint resumed production of the Susan B. Anthony dollar coin after a timely action was taken in May by the Congressional budget committees responsible for the Treasury Department, in granting approval for the reprogramming of Treasury funds. This will now allow the Mint to produce the additional dollars needed to bring the total coins produced by July to over 500 million as originally planned.

A temporary shut-down in production had occurred March 31 until approval of funding could be secured from Congress. At that time, the Mint had produced 262 million of the new dollar coins. Noting that production will continue through the end of the fiscal year, Mrs. Hackel also announced that a circulation campaign for the Anthony dollars will be implemented promptly by the Mint.

"The 500 million coins available for the initial release will provide sufficient coins to the public so that they are readily available," Mrs. Hackel said.

... Mint Discontinues Orders for 1979 Proof Coin Sets

Director of the Mint, Stella B. Hackel, announced that the Mint stopped accepting orders for the 1979 six-coin proof sets on May 11, 1979. The Mint reached its maximum production quota, Mrs. Hackel added, and all orders received after that date were returned. There was an unusually great demand for the sets this year because of the introduction of the Susan B. Anthony dollar.

The Mint began accepting orders for the 1979 proof coin sets April 2. The sets are produced solely at the San Francisco Assay Office and will be mailed through the end of the year. Customers will receive an acknowledgement card indicating when their orders will be delivered.

The Mint will be accepting orders this Fall for the 12-coin 1979 uncirculated sets. Each set will contain one of each cupro-nickel clad Susan B. Anthony dollar, Kennedy half dollar, Washington quarter, Roosevelt dime, Jefferson nickel and Lincoln cent manufactured for general circulation at the Denver and Philadelphia Mints. Information about ordering the sets will be made available later this summer through the Mint's mailing list and the news media.

U.S.S.R. — Second One-Rouble Olympic Commemorative Available

In commemoration of its host status for the 1980 Summer Olympic Games, the U.S.S.R. is issuing a series of four one-rouble coins, one during each of the four years between the 1976 Olympics and 1980. The first coin was issued in 1977, and the second, struck in 1978, is now available for ordering.

The year 1980 will mark the first time that the Olympics have been held in the U.S.S.R. The one-rouble coins commemorating that event are firsts also in that this is the first time a host country has issued Olympic commemorative coins struck from a non-precious metal rather than a more expensive, precious metal. The U.S.S.R. one roubles are minted of a cupronickel-zinc alloy, allowing them to be affordably priced at $3.95 each plus 50¢ for postage and handling.

The official 1978 Olympic one-rouble coin features on its reverse a representation of the Kremlin with the emblem of the 1980 summer Olympic games framed against the famous Spassky Tower. The emblem is a stylized rendering of a Moscow skyscraper topped by a star and resting on the five Olympic rings representing the five continents and the brotherhood of amateur sports. The inscription translates into English as, "XXII Olympic Games — Moscow, 1980." The words, "One Rouble," are repeated twice around the coin's edge. The obverse design shows the Soviet State Seal.

The coins were struck at the Leningrad Mint and, with a diameter of 31 millimeters, are larger than ordinary one roubles. They are identical in design and metal content to coins in circulation in the U.S.S.R., but the Olympic one roubles are minted in select specimen quality for collectors.

Olympic coins from 1977, the first year of the series, are also available. They feature the same obverse design, and the official emblem of the 1980 summer Olympic games is on the reverse design.

Further information and ordering details concerning the U.S.S.R. Olympic one-rouble coins may be obtained by writing: Paramount International Coin Corporation, 600 Union Road, Department 92, Englewood, OH 45322.

New and Recent Issues by Ernst Kraus, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this,

ANA members in the United States and abroad are invited to correspond with

Ernst Kraus at 73-12 35th Avenue, Apt. E-24, Jackson Heights, NY 11372. Coins should be sent to Mr. Kraus, % Coin and Currency Institute, 116 W. 32nd St., 11th Floor, New York City, NY 10001.

Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

Rochester, New York Officially Welcomes Anthony Dollar

July 2nd was a big day for numismatics in Rochester, New York. On that day the hometown of Susan B. Anthony held an official issuance ceremony for the new Anthony dollar coin, the first U. S. coin to portray a historical woman.

The Rochester Numismatic Association and the Rochester Museum co-sponsored a celebration where Director of the Mint, Stella Hackel, was the guest speaker. Ms. Hackel presented a major address concerning the Susan B. Anthony Dollar and officially initiated public distribution of the new coin. Ms. Hackel had earlier turned over to the city a galvano used in making the new coin.

A champagne reception followed the ceremony.

Coin World Issues 1,000th Edition

Coin World, the nation's first and largest weekly newspaper for coin collectors, published its 1,000th edition on June 13 at its Amos Press facility. A limited number of these souvenir copies are available, while quantities last, for 50 cents to cover postage and handling by writing Coin World, Box 150, Sidney, Ohio.

"Though there were few in 1960 who felt the hobby would sustain a weekly paper, Coin World experienced a phenomenal climb in circulation," according to publisher John O. Amos. "Readership over the 90,000 mark and an average of more than 100 pages per issue today point to an increasingly hungry audience seeking ever more specialized information and advertisements to buy and sell U. S. and world coin issues, tokens, medals, paper money, and related numismatic items."

With a powerful news network linking coin capitals and mints throughout the world, and with educational features, up-to-the-minute coin price trends and relevant editorials, Coin World has been an undeniable influence in the spiralling rise of interest in numismatics.

Chicago Coin Club to Sponsor Major Fall Show

The first major Chicago show of both U.S. and world coins and currency since 1973 has been scheduled October 5-7 at the city's newest exhibit and convention center, the Expocenter/Chicago, 350 N. Orleans Street. The three-day event, sponsored by the Chicago Coin Club, will include educational programs, an auction, a bourse with more than 100 dealers anticipated, and numismatic exhibits. Club members Dick Peterson and Charles J. Ryant, Jr. will serve as bourse chairman and exhibits chairman respectively.

The Fall Festival will have a broad base of appeal for collectors of coins and currency as well as medals and tokens. Invited officials of the ANA, the Central States Numismatic Society, and the Professional Numismatists Guild will participate in the programs.

Detailed information on the festival, bourse tables, and exhibit applications can be obtained from General Chairman Harry X. Boosel, P.O. Box 59132, Northtown Station, Chicago, IL 60659. Hotel accommodations are available within the Expocenter/Chicago — Apparel Mart complex, and collectors will find an added bonus to the coin show: elsewhere in the huge expocenter the Chicago Philatelic Society has scheduled a major stamp show the same weekend.

Franklin Mint Offers Bullion Piece

The Franklin Mint Corporation has announced that it is now minting and marketing gold bullion pieces. The Franklin Mint Gold Piece, available in a troy ounce, a half ounce, or a quarter ounce, is minted in .999 fine gold, making it about eight percent purer than the South African Krugerrand.

"More and more Americans are buying gold as a hedge against inflation," Andes said. "Most of the bullion coins sold in the United States come from such foreign countries as Russia and South Africa, so there has been a growing demand for an American alternative. Now we will be minting that alternative."

The price of The Franklin Mint Gold Piece is based on the world price of gold and distribution is being handled through a nationwide network of banks and coin dealers. Sculpted by Gilroy Roberts, former chief sculptor-engraver of the U.S. Mint, one side of the piece bears a portrait of Benjamin Franklin, the other a distinctive sculpture of the American eagle.

Twenty-five hundred special proof editions were made available beginning last month. These three-piece sets were sold for $575, representing a 30 percent premium over the bullion value of the gold. The non-proof bullion pieces went on public sale in mid-June with each piece being sold at a small premium over the daily price of gold.

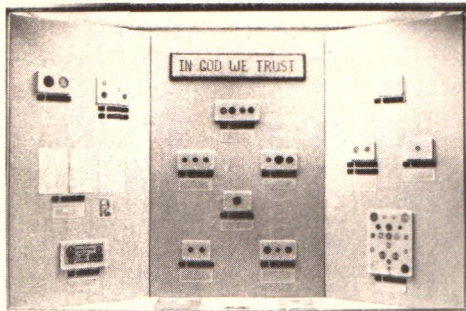

"In God We Trust" Collection on Display

Numismatists living or traveling near High Point, North Carolina, will be interested to learn of an exhibit of high quality, extremely rare, and historically significant coins. The High Point Museum has prepared the exhibit to explain and illustrate how "In God We Trust" came to appear on our coins, stamps, and currency and how it eventually came to be the official U.S. National Motto.

Highlighting the exhibit are 14 of the pattern coins which led to the use of "In God We Trust" on our nation's official coinage. Of the patterns exhibited, 8 are rarity 6 (13-30 pieces made), 5 are rarity 7 (4-12 pieces made), and one is unique. Four 1861 patterns are included in the exhibit. Two are half-dollars; one is struck in silver and one in copper. The other two 1861 patterns are ten-dollar pieces; one is struck in copper and one in copper-gilt. These patterns were the first to carry the word "God." It appeared on them in the motto, "God Our Trust." In 1863, the mint struck patterns for the soon-to-be-official 2¢ piece. Of these, the exhibit includes a copper piece with "God Our Trust," a copper-nickel piece with "God and Our Country," and the transitional bronze piece with "In God We Trust." "In God We Trust" first appeared on a regular issue coin with the start of the 2¢ series in 1864, and the motto was added to most of our silver and gold coins in 1866.

During the 1860's, patterns also were designed for the larger denominations of silver coins. These patterns carried the motto and were struck in several different metals. Although it is believed that these patterns may have been struck as late as 1868 or 1869, they were dated 1863, 1864, and 1865. Thus, the ones dated 1863 are the pieces with the earliest date to carry "In God We Trust." The exhibit contains 1863 patterns of each denomination and metal: a copper dollar, silver half-dollar, and an aluminum quarter-dollar. Research indicates that only a single set of these patterns was struck in nickel and dated 1864. The dollar in the collection is thought to be the only such piece in existence.

The "In God We Trust" exhibit will be at the High Point Museum through August, 1979. The museum is located at 1805 East Lexington Avenue in High Point. It is open to the public free of charge Monday through Friday from 9 until 4:30 and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 1 until 5.

Bavarian Rarity Offered in Nummus Mundi

Frank Draskovic, manager of the foreign department of Bowers & Ruddy Galleries, has announced that a great rarity in the modern German series will highlight the firm's publication, Nummus Mundi, a fixed price catalog devoted to ancient and foreign coins. The coin, an 1865 double vereinsthaler of Bavaria, is referenced as number 610 in John S. Davenport's volume, European Crowns and Talers, and number 260 in Coins of the World 1750-1850 by W. D. Craig.

Issued during the reign of Ludwig II, the type was struck for only three years — 1865, 1867 and 1869 — in small numbers. Though the 1865 has a recorded mintage of 2,490, the coin is far rarer than that mintage would indicate, suggesting a significant re-melting. Known as "Mad Ludwig," the monarch portrayed is infamous for nearly bankrupting Bavaria while building grand palaces, among them Herrenchiemsee and Neuschwanstein, where swan motifs predominate throughout. Ludwig drowned himself in 1886, three days after being declared insane.

The specimen offered is a bold, evenly worn VF and is offered subject to prior sale. Among the hundreds of other coins listed is a fine selection of ancient Greek and Roman coins, a good cross section of world gold, and a comprehensive group of crowns and minor coins with emphasis on better European material, though containing specimens from all parts of the world.

The lavishly illustrated catalog is free to any interested collector or dealer. Requests for Nummus Mundi No. 2 should be sent to Frank Draskovic, Manager Foreign Department, Bowers & Ruddy Galleries, Inc., 6922 Hollywood Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90028.

World War II Barter Kits Offered

Do you collect coins . . . military memorabilia . . . gold?

The Defense Property Disposal Service is offering an invitation to the general public to send in sealed bids on "escape and evasion aids," commonly called barter kits. These were put together for aircrewmen and paratroopers downed in unfriendly territory during World War II and Vietnam. The kits, held in war reserve stock since that time, contain gold coins, jewelry and watches.

The Atlantic kit contains one 20-franc and one 10-franc gold coin (French mintage), one 1-pound sovereign and two ½-pound sovereign gold coins (British or South Africa mintage), and three gold rings, some plain and some embossed. The coins are not in mint condition nor have they been formally appraised, but they appear to be in very good condition. A sample assay established that the three rings alone contain a total of 15/100 troy ounces of fine gold. The Atlantic kit is sealed and will be shipped with special opening instructions.

The Southeast Asia kit contains one gold link chain (4 links) 1¾ inches in length, one gold embossed pendant (some are of heart shape and some of flat circular design), two gold embossed rings, and one 21-jewel Swiss calendar watch with black cloth band.

A sample assay shows that each of these kits contains a total of 1.08 troy ounces of fine gold. Contents are encased in plastic which can be easily opened.

Coin condition and dates, as well as ring and pendant style, vary with each kit. Because most of the kits are sealed, it will not be possible for bidders to request specific composition.

A quantity of 300 of the Atlantic kits and 50 Southeast Asia kits will be offered at minimum acceptable bids of about $400 each, subject to changes in the market price of gold. An additional, larger offering of kits is planned at a later date. Postage and handling of shipment will be prepaid by the government to the highest bidders within the United States, trust territories and possessions. Shipment will be made within 90 days.

Bids will be accepted in any quantity of one or more until sealed bid opening August 1, 1979, at 10 a.m. at the Defense Property Disposal Service, Federal Center, Battle Creek, MI 49016. A deposit of 20 percent of the total must accompany the bid. Interested bidders can receive a copy of a sales catalog on the kits by writing to Defense Property Disposal Service; Attn: Barter Kit Sale, DPDS-MMS-1; Federal Center; Battle Creek, MI 49016.

Last Uncirculated Redfield Silver Dollars Purchased

New England Rare Coin Galleries has announced that it recently purchased the last group of the fabled Redfield Silver Dollars in certain key dates. All Redfields purchased by New England are Morgan dollars in uncirculated grades ranging from MS-60 to MS-67. Among others, these key dates and mintmarks are included in the New England purchase: 1879-CC, 1883-S, 1893-CC, and 1895-S.

The fabulous silver dollar collection of millionaire collector LaVere Redfield became available to the numismatic public upon Redfield's death in 1974. His collection quickly became legend when it was discovered that Redfield had hidden $7.3 million worth of silver dollars in his Reno, Nevada, mansion and had kept his collection secret from even his closest friends.

New England Rare Coin Galleries will be offering its Redfield silver dollars for sale in the very near future. However, for advance information, call New England's numismatists toll-free at 1-(800)-225-6794 (in Mass. (617)-227-8800), or write: "Redfields," New England Rare Coin Galleries, P.O. Box 1776, Boston, MA 02105.

Sterling Silver Note Reproductions Presented to ANA

Grover Criswell, ANA president, accepted the following historic American bank notes on behalf of the Association, from the American Bank Note Company and International Silver Company joint issuance: the $5 Omaha & Chicago; the $100 Commercial Bank of Wilmington, North Carolina; the $2 Canton Bank of South China, Maine; and the $4 Bank of Washington, North Carolina. A total of six banknotes of historical interest were issued in the series. The first two banknotes in the series of six, the $100 Liberty Bank and the $50 Bank of Charleston, were previously presented to the ANA.

All six banknotes were authentically reproduced from the original engravings in the archives of the American Bank Note Company. The limited editions were all serially numbered and were accompanied by a certificate of authentication signed by ANA member J. Roy Pennell Jr., leading authority on world currencies and engraving. Each sterling silver note was accompanied by an intaglio print of the actual banknote and was accompanied by a descriptive booklet.

The $5 note of the Omaha & Chicago Bank depicts the Battle of Lexington, the initial armed conflict of the Revolutionary War. The fourth issue in the series was the $100 note of the Commercial Bank of Wilmington, North Carolina. The maritime vignettes on this note emphasize the importance of foreign trade to North Carolina in the 1850's. The $2 Canton Bank note of 1855 depicts the "Signing of the Declaration of Independence." The sixth note in the series is the $4 Bank of Washington, circa 1860. This note of unusual denomination illustrates the First Family for whom the bank and its town of origin were named.

ANA Receives Biblical Coins from Stack's

Two recent donations by Stack's of New York City have enhanced the collection of Biblical coins of the ANA. Received were a shekel of Tyre (A.D. 46-47), a denarius of Tiberius (A.D. 14-37), and three Judean leptons (A.D. 15-36).

The shekel of Tyre is popularly referred to as one of the Thirty Pieces of Silver Judas received for betraying Christ. The denarius of Tiberius is commonly called the Tribute Penny ("render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's"). The three leptons are also called Widow's Mites. One is of Valerius Gratus, A.D. 15-26, Procurator of Tiberius, year 11, and the other two are of the infamous Pontius Pilate, Procurator of Judea, A.D. 26-36, years 17 and 18.

Also received was a 27mm bronze of Cleopatra VII, wife of Marc Antony, 52-30 B.C. This coin goes nicely with one in superb condition of Marc Antony already in the ANA museum collection. The association is very happy with the continued support of Stack's and with this most significant grouping of Biblical coins, and hopes to add other ancient and Biblical coins to the museum, whether it be in collections, small groupings or individual items.

Visitors are welcomed to the ANA headquarters museum galleries and library from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekdays, and on Saturdays by prior arrangements.

Medal Honors 400th Anniversary of Sir Francis Drake's Voyage

Four centuries ago, in 1577, Francis Drake sailed from Plymouth, England, for the West Indies, down around Cape Horn, up the west coast of that continent, finally landing in North America just north of where San Francisco now stands. Claiming North American land for England, Drake departed 36 days later. Returning to England, he presented the fortunes he had amassed to the government, in appreciation of which Queen Elizabeth I knighted him Sir Francis Drake.

To commemorate Drake's voyage, Dick and Barbara Hyde of MedalliCraft, Santa Ana, Calif., designed and sculptured models for dies in collaboration with former president of the California Historical Society, Robert Power. The Roger Williams Mint, Attleboro, Mass., then multiple-struck the dies into large 3" high-relief art medallions showing a contemporary portrait of Drake on the obverse and his ship, the Golden Hinde, on the reverse.

The satin antique bronze issues, 500 pieces, weigh over half a pound each, and the 25 silver (.999 fine) medallions each weigh over nine troy ounces. Prices are $19.50 and $175 each, respectively, postpaid. California residents are required to add 6% sales tax. Orders may be mailed to MedalliCraft at Box 10378, Santa Ana, CA 92711.

New ANA Correspondence Course Popular

In the less than three months since the "Intermediate Numismatic Correspondence Course" was announced, more than 400 students have enrolled in it. It is a 491-page, 20-chapter course, each chapter having been authored by a well-known specialist in his or her field, covering practically all facets of the hobby.

After enrollment, each student is assigned to an administrator who keeps records of his or her students, receives and grades end-of-chapter quizzes and returns lessons. Volunteers for this position are needed and anyone interested should contact INCC Chief Administrators Robert and Cheryl Maisch, 1915 Jo Jean Road, Lima, OH 45806.

The Intermediate Numismatic Correspondence course is available to both adult and junior collectors, whether ANA members or not. Application forms may be secured from ANA, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901.

The fee for the 20-chapter course is $13 for persons under 18 years of age who are not ANA members and $11 for junior ANA members. Adults who are not members are invited to enroll for $20, while adult members pay a $15 fee. A heavy vinyl hardcover loose-leaf binder for the 20 chapters of the course is included as part of the fees quoted. Those successfully completing the course will receive Certificates of Completion from ANA headquarters.

Membership Report

Applications R-99031 through R-99335, and LM-2311 through LM-2319, as published in the May issue, have been accepted for membership.

The following applications were received in May, 1979. If no objections are filed prior to August 1, 1979, these applicants will become members on that date and notice to that effect will appear in the September, 1979, issue.

We suggest that new members of ANA consider dealing only with professional numismatists who, themselves, are ANA members.

Association bylaws require publication of each application but not necessarily the applicant's mailing address. However, if the option to omit the street or box number was not exercised on the application form, it has been published herein. Such applicants should realize that numerous mailings will follow from various dealers and other numismatic organizations that scan the monthly publication of applicants.

The Association cannot prevent such use of your address now and in the future. However, the ANA has not and will not release any applicants' or members' addresses at any time or for any purpose beyond this initial publication. Notices of changes of addresses of members are never published or released from headquarters.

Who Is Michelle K. Lopez?

Michelle K. Lopez is a coin collector (correction — a numismatist). She has been in the hobby four years — but then, that's over a third of her life because she won't be a dozen years old until this fall. She lives in San Bernardino, Calif., and is a member of six coin clubs in that area. Her brother is ANA member 90,120; her father is no. 99,993; her mother is no. 100,001 and — by now you've guessed it — Michelle drew the magic number 100,000.

That is not only a singular number but it carries a $500 allowance from ANA toward Michelle's expenses to the St. Louis convention, by action of the board of governors at its February meeting. Oddly, she and her father, Fred, and her mother, Mary, sent in their applications because they planned to accompany her brother, Theodore, to St. Louis and felt they should be members. Another factor in the decision was that Ted is working on his fifth and sixth Roman coins in the project sponsored by David Cervin and he needed to propose a couple of members.

Michelle takes her collecting seriously, has exhibited at Cal State conventions, and intends to keep improving until she gets into the winners' circle. Her dad and brother attended the recent Convention of International Numismatics in Los Angeles and junior carried home two awards — one first place and another "best in category." So she has a good example before her and a challenge to meet.

The headquarters staff plans to provide a suitable emblem for Michelle to wear at the convention to proclaim her good fortune and unique ANA membership status. Congratulations and best wishes from all of us, Miss Lopez!

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to Advertising Dept., The Numismatist, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, CO 80901. Make all remittances payable to American Numismatic Association.

DEADLINE: Copy must be received by the 5th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue. All advertising copy must be typed.

MECHANICAL REQUIREMENTS: Full page, 28-1/2 x 45 picas; half page may be either vertical or horizontal in format. Single column width, 13-1/2 picas. Halftones should be 133 line screen mounted. Mats and stereos unacceptable. Page position may be requested but cannot be guaranteed.

CIRCULATION: 32,000. No advertising agency commission granted. No discounts other than contract rates.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS: No ads accepted from minors unless accompanied by signature of parent or guardian stating financial responsibility. All ads must have numismatic significance. Because of advance deadlines, prices stated in many ads may be subject to change.

ILLUSTRATIONS: Art should be provided by the advertiser when possible. Photography of numismatic items will be billed at national rates.

CONTRACTS: Available for three, six and twelve consecutive month periods, at 2, 5 and 10 percent discounts respectively when contract requirements are fulfilled. In lieu of contract, reduced rates are granted only upon total advance payment for the period desired. Cancelled contracts will be rebilled at the next applicable rate. If new copy has not been received by the 5th of the month, the previous month's ad will be repeated.

REFERENCES: All advertisers are required to submit banking and trade references when advertising for the first time. Advertisers must be, or have one responsible member of their company, a member of ANA.

COPY: Ad copy must be typed on paper of good quality, preferably 8-1/2 x 11 inches and be legible and double spaced. Ad copy should be on separate sheets and never in the body of a letter of transmittal. Trade names may be used, but, except for the name of corporations, the name of the responsible person of the firm must also appear.

There will be an extra charge for heavy composition.

The advertising department has on file the names and addresses of all advertisers. Any complaints or requests for information regarding advertisers should be referred to the advertising department. The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

NUMISMATIC ACQUISITION PROGRAM

The customers of Kelman & Associates enjoy an excellence of service which is unmatched in numismatics. Our primary commitment is to individualized personal attention to each of our clients. As a further extension of this service we are offering a standardized comprehensive investment program which is now available on a monthly subscription basis.

The program is designed to provide intelligent coin acquisition options which will enable our clients to satisfy their own specialized collection/investment requirements while taking full advantage of our firm's professional numismatic expertise. These options are based on a thorough knowledge of the numismatic market in regard to historical and current profitability, demand and availability trends.

The following collection/investment plans are available at your discretion in monthly amounts of $100 and up. Once a month you will receive a package of rare coins based on your individualized program requirements. All coins will be hand selected by a professional numismatic consultant. If you accept your rare coin package, payment will be expected within fifteen days of receipt of the package. You may withdraw from the program at any time without further obligation.

All guarantees in regard to authenticity and satisfaction apply to this program. The condition of all coins will be specified by the acknowledged accurate grading which is a trademark of Kelman & Associates.

If you are unsure as to which program will best fit your specific needs and would like to discuss your requirements further, please call us collect.

NUMISMATIC ACQUISITION OPTIONS

Type Set Options:

United States Type Set (Copper, Nickel, Silver)

For the collector/investor who wishes to assemble a collection of fine quality United States type coins. Nineteenth century specimens will grade VF or better and will be hand selected for their visual attractiveness. Twentieth century coins will grade uncirculated or proof. Minimum $150/month.

United States Type Set (Gold)

Gold has been highly valued by man since the beginning of civilization. United States gold coins are comprised of extraordinarily beautiful and artistic designs. Minted from 1795 to 1933, your set will include specimens of gold dollars, $2-1/2 quarter eagles, three dollar gold pieces, $5 half eagles, $10 eagles and $20 double eagles. Early U.S. gold specimens will grade VF or better and later dates will grade uncirculated. Minimum $500/month.

Pattern Collection Option:

Patterns are coins which were struck by the U.S. Mint as proposals for circulation of new designs, metals, sizes, shapes, denominations, etc. Struck in very limited quantities, they include some of the most fascinating and beautiful coins ever created by artists and mint craftsmen.

This option will enable the collector/investor to assemble a high quality set of United States pattern coinage which will be sure to become a treasured family heirloom. All specimens will be proof or uncirculated. Minimum $500/month.

Mr. Arthur Kagin
Kagin's Numismatic Auctions
Des Moines, Iowa

Dear Mr. Kagin:

This letter is to confirm receipt of the check for the proceeds of our collection which was donated to us by Mr. James F. Lindsay.

On behalf of Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church, I would like to thank you and your organization for an outstanding job as auctioneers. The fact that record prices were realized in all areas of the collection is a credit to your pre-sale work and professionalism.

You certainly may use Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church as a reference in the future. Once again, thank you for an outstanding job.

Very sincerely yours,

When you decide to sell, you want the highest possible price
for your collection.
So does
Bowers & Ruddy Galleries.

We know how much time and money you have given to your collection, and we treat your property as though it were ours! We are working together to obtain the same result — high prices — since our commission is a percentage of the price which each lot brings.

Years of numismatic expertise go into the cataloguing of your coins. Unmatched photographic illustrations (color and black and white) of important pieces are placed right with the lots. We give you and your coins treatment of an uncompromising nature — to entice bidders to bid liberally.

Don't sell valuable rarities or choice type coins outright. Don't trust the big job of offering them to the collecting public to a little auction firm. If you do either, you will probably not get nearly what you should for your coins. Instead, consider for a moment the valuable qualities which are yours through a Bowers and Ruddy Galleries rare coin auction — qualities which can be yours for just a low commission rate.

Bowers & Ruddy Galleries, Inc.

IMMEDIATE CASH ADVANCES are available in any amount. There is no need to sell your property outright at less than you should receive, because we will gladly give you an instant cash advance the moment your consignment is accepted for auction.

COMPLETE PROTECTION FOR YOUR HOLDINGS. Your property is fully insured and protected in our bank vaults from the moment we receive it—and we will even send couriers to pick up your coins if your collection warrants it. A secure financial settlement following the sale is also guaranteed, for no auction service anywhere is more reliable than Bowers and Ruddy Galleries, a member of the billion-dollar-strong General Mills family of companies. Peace of mind is yours!

PROFESSIONAL REFERENCES. Our founders, James F. Ruddy (retired) and Q. David Bowers, are life members of the American Numismatic Association and are members of the Professional Numismatists Guild (Mr. Ruddy is a recipient of the PNG's Distinguished Service Award, and Mr. Bowers is a director of the PNG), the International Association of Professional Numismatists, the American Numismatic Society, the Royal Numismatic Society of London, and other leading organizations worldwide. Both are widely known for their research and writings in the field of numismatics, including best-selling books on coin grading and investing.

THE BEST POSSIBLE PRICES for your rarities and choice type coins are the result of our famous numismatic expertise, our research into varieties, our superbly illustrated auction catalogues, and our extensive advertising for each auction. THERE IS NO FINER AUCTION SERVICE!

Join the group of satisfied Bowers & Ruddy Galleries consignors next time you decide to sell your collection or significant single rarities (minimum consignment $2000). You owe it to yourself to consider the sale of your coins carefully — so, fill out the coupon below and we'll send you our informative brochure, "How to Sell Your Coins for the Best Price," or call Bob Korver or Q. David Bowers on our toll free auction action number, (800) 421-4224. They'll give you complete details about including your collection in one of our upcoming auction sales.

WANTED

We're Buying U.S. Coins, Foreign Coins, Estates, Accumulation, Collections and Paper Money.

Choose your buyer wisely! It could mean hundreds or even thousands of dollars more to you when you sell part or all of your collection. There are basically two types of dealers in this business — the retailer and the wholesaler. 95% of Central Coin Exchange's sales are at the retail level — that's why we can afford to pay more for your collection.

Central Coin Exchange:

- has three retail outlets — an auction company, an investment company and fixed price mailing lists.
- advertises regularly in Coin World, COINage, and Coin Magazine.
- is prepared to buy your entire collection — not just the Choice material.
- cash available — 2 million dollars +

Call toll free at 1-800-328-5670

- bank reference: First Robbinsdale State Bank, 4180 West Broadway, Robbinsdale, Minnesota 55427 Howard Groenke 1-612-536-5381

Call us toll free if you desire to sell part or all of your collection. Or you may ship your collection to us by insured mail and we will evaluate your collection. Within 36 hours you will receive our generous offer by return mail. Should you decide not to accept our offer, we will return your collection. Naturally your collection will be fully insured and Central Coin Exchange will pay postage both ways. You risk nothing!

If you feel your needs would be better met if we travel to you, one of our representatives can arrange to be there within 24 hours.

WHEN SELLING OR BUYING, THINK OF DUGGAN!

Here are a few good reasons for dealing with us:

1. We give you prompt and friendly attention.
2. We will guarantee to make a firm offer for your collection, however large the collection, usually within one day. Should you accept our offer we will make immediate cash payment during banking hours.
3. We will buy collections (including the poor coins), as well as single coins, from most countries of the world.
4. We pay TOP PRICES.
5. WE HAVE A CHOICE STOCK OF BRITISH COINS.
6. ALL OUR COINS ARE GUARANTEED GENUINE.
7. We are always keen to purchase any coins that we have previously sold. Many clients have made large profits over the years selling back to us.
8. We will gladly give you investment advice.
9. You can easily deal with the Principal of the Company (J. A. DUGGAN), who can give you an immediate decision. You do not have to wait for somebody "higher up" to be contacted.
10. Last, but not least, we pride ourselves on our integrity.

All coins sent to us via REGISTERED post are insured against loss or damage by Lloyds of London, providing we are notified prior to their being sent.

ANA Members: Show Your Colors!

With New England's Colorful ANA Commemorative Poster

This year, you can really bring the excitement and prestige of the annual ANA Auction back home — because this year, you can take home New England Rare Coin Auctions' beautiful ANA Auction Commemorative Poster.

Each ANA Poster measures 18½" x 24" and features a stunning rendition of the St. Louis skyline, site of the 1979 ANA Convention (July 28-August 3). This beautiful work of art was painted especially for ANA attendees by well-known Boston watercolorist Susan Browne Hansen. To ensure the permanence of your poster, each print has been produced on heavy, gloss-coat stock, and all orders will be shipped in double-strength protective mailing tubes.

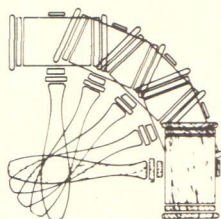

A limited number of Special Edition Posters (hand-signed and numbered by the artist) are available for $25 each. Regular edition posters are only $10.

Mount some memories on your wall. Pick up your 1979 ANA Auction Commemorative Poster at New England Rare Coin Auctions' special ANA table (located just outside the ANA exhibitor's hall). Or reserve your poster now by sending a check or money order to:

At last AN ALBUM THAT REALLY DISPLAYS AND PROTECTS YOUR VALUABLE COIN COLLECTION

For years coin collectors have had to settle for storage and display albums that were far from ideal. Many albums failed to protect the coins adequately from tarnish, hid the reverse sides of the coins, did not allow for duplication of coins in a series and/or made it difficult to view the edges.

Some of them contained spaces for coins which were so rare that "holes" were left unfilled in the albums.

Until now no album has met the needs of the discriminating collector. But the "Flip-A-Coin" Album solves coin collectors' problems like none other before it.

- 1) Each coin is protected from dust, moisture and fingerprints by its own plastic show-case.
- 2) Each coin can be removed and reinserted at any other location in the album, so there is no need for an empty "hole" on any page. They can be arranged according to type, date, errors, or in any desired grouping.
- 3) The edges can be plainly viewed without removing the coin.
- 4) The coin can be pivoted so as to show both obverse and reverse surfaces without turning the page or inverting the album.
- 5) Pages can be added and security maintained because of the screw post binder mechanism.
- 6) The cover, tastefully colored and designed, attractively displays all your coins. There is even a transparent vinyl pocket that holds information.

Basically, the album consists of durable plastic leaves, each with eight holes fitting silver dollars. The hole size and number vary with the denomination of coin from page to page.

The coin is contained within its own plastic show-case that can be sealed from dust and fingerprints. This holder is held in the album by a sturdy nylon pin assembly within the page.

The pins are normally locked but may be released so that the coin can be flipped over for inspection or removed from the album. Until pressure is exerted upon spring action of the pin, the coin is held firmly in the album with no possibility of falling out.

The pages are made of high impact plastic with hinges held securely within the plastic sheets to allow the pages to lie flat for inspection. The vinyl cover is of the screw post type so that each page can be removed or new pages added.

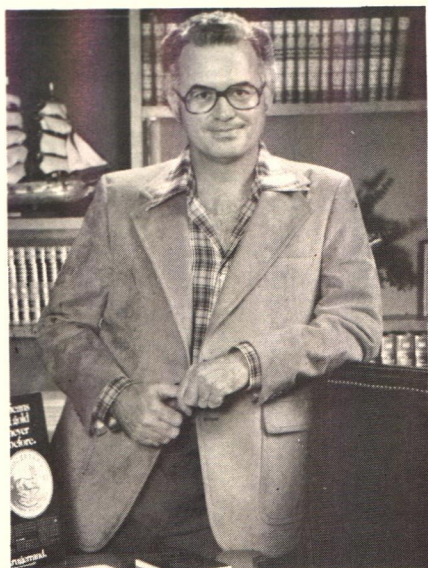

The coins are identified by peel-off stickers which are placed in recessed date slots below the openings. Thus, the collector can place his coins in the album in any way he wishes and still maintain proper identification.

The Uncommon Market
For Numismatists The World Over

WELCOMES YOUR INQUIRIES

We take pride in the fact that we have one of the largest and most select inventories of gold and silver — U.S. and foreign numismatic coins — in America.

BUY AND SELL COINS AND CURRENCY

We buy and sell any and all numismatic material. MTB is the largest firm on the East Coast dealing in all forms of coinage from bullion to numismatic rarities. Some firms will buy a part of your collection; we will buy it all, world coins and paper money included. Our numismatic division has long been recognized as a leader in quality coinage and as such we are in constant need of new material. If you are looking to buy or sell, it would be wise to check with us first as we are recognized as "THE DEALER'S DEALER."

No collection is too large, so why sell it for less? We will pay you immediately and remove the guesswork as to the price your collection will bring. If the size of your collection warrants it, we will travel to see the material. Remember, when buying or selling, think and will pay high prices to get them. If you're reading this ad, chances are you have coins to sell. If so, you've come to the right place. We are in desperate need of all numismatic items for both our mail order and our new retail outlet. Our credentials are unquestioned in the coin industry (we've advertised in Coin World for the last sixteen years). Our check is the fastest in the East. Just ship your coins (insured or registered) and our offer, in the form of a check, will rocket back to you the same day your package arrives. And we mean the same day (not an annoying 2 or 3 weeks later). For fast service, please include your phone number.

SHOREHAM ENTERPRISES

NEEDS YOUR COINS

Should you decide not to accept our offer (which seldom happens), we will pay shipping costs both ways. We can use just about anything, from 1/2 cents to $50 slugs, paper money, foreign coins, from one coin to complete collections or accumulations, in all grades. Be it $20 or $500,000, we're interested. If you feel a personal visit is necessary, one of our representatives will come to you, at your convenience. Please feel free to call us collect anytime to discuss your holdings. Certified check or cash is always available and all dealings are strictly confidential. Our bank reference is Bank Hapoalin B.M. New York City; Walter Cooper, Manager, Corporate Business Dept.

(We reserve the right to reject any coin unconditionally.)

When selling, contact Shoreham Enterprises first; you'll be glad you did!

Steve Ivy Numismatic Auctions, Inc.

We get you the highest price for your money.

Through the most professional and sophisticated merchandising and advertising program in the numismatic industry.

With advertisements in Coin World, Barrons, The Wall Street Journal. Ads that reach buyers everywhere. Ads that sell your coins. Ads that increase the number of mail and floor bidders to give you the best chance of realizing the highest possible prices.

With all-color auction catalogs sent to thousands of buyers across the nation. We were the first and are still the only auction company to produce all-color catalogs. Color highlights your coins, attracts the eye of the bidder and brings out details that might pass unnoticed in a black and white catalog. Color gives your coins a better chance of selling at the highest possible prices.

With CompuBid™, a Steve Ivy Numismatic Auctions exclusive. CompuBid™ is a highly advanced computerized innovation that allows each bidder to maximize his bidding dollars. Again, CompuBid™ is still another Steve Ivy Numismatic Auctions feature that helps you to realize the highest possible prices for your coins.

Through consistent, highly comprehensive, well structured, unreserved auctions.

Many auction houses have auction sales that are glutted with multiples and are assembled in an unorganized and cluttered manner. Often, your coins are graded by several different people, thereby eliminating the consistency which is so important to a successful sale. Steve Ivy Numismatic Auctions are managed much more efficiently. They are intentionally structured, well organized and consistently graded to create the optimum buying environment for your coins. Our auctions are realistically competitive, resulting in the highest possible prices realized for you. Our auctions are also unreserved, so more bidders will participate to give you a better chance of obtaining the highest prices possible.

Through major city auction lot displays.

In addition to showing your coins to thousands of buying eyes in our ads and all-color catalogs, Steve Ivy Numismatic Auctions puts your coins on display in at least one major coin show in a major city before they go on auction. This way, still more people will be able to see your coins, increasing the number of bids and increasing your chances of obtaining the highest prices possible.

Through short consignment cut-off dates and timely cash advances.

Because we manage our company as efficiently as we manage our auctions, and because we send all catalogs by first class mail, we can offer you a consignment cut-off date that is very close to the date for the actual auction. And if you need money in a hurry, we'll make generous cash advances to you before we put your coins in auction. This means your coins will be in our possession for the shortest period of time, and you'll have the money to use.

The Professional Numismatists Guild is the leading organization in the United States which restricts its membership to dealers who possess and demonstrate these three essential qualifications: KNOWLEDGE of the subject arising from extensive experience; RESPONSIBILITY to sell only fully authenticated and accurately described items of numismatic value; and INTEGRITY in assuring the buyer of a safe, honest, and mutually satisfying transaction.

1. A minimum of 21 years of age and 5 years as a full-time professional numismatist

2. A minimum of $100,000 in numismatic assets
3. Agreement to the PNG's strict Code of Ethics
4. Screening by the PNG's Board of Directors
5. Financial and character scrutiny by an outside firm
6. Acceptance by ballot of the entire PNG membership
7. Agreement to submit to legally binding arbitration to settle any dispute between a buyer and a PNG-member dealer.

The next time you consider buying a rare coin or a piece of currency, consider the source! If the seller is a PNG member, your satisfaction is guaranteed. The credentials of other trusted professionals in your life—your doctor, your lawyer, your stockbroker, for example—are important, yes vital, to you. Likewise, you should demand the highest credentials from your rare coin dealer. The answer: a member of the Professional Numismatists Guild.

A free catalogue of the nearly 200 PNG member dealers is yours free upon application to the Executive Secretary.

It is true of cigars, and even more so of coins. The increasing value of superb quality coins is outpacing almost every conventional form of investment.

N.I.O.F. deals exclusively in the finest quality United States coins in the market. We strongly believe that the enduring strength of the coin market is found in the best quality coins. Granted, superb quality is harder than ever to come by, but there in lies the essence of true investing.

If you are a serious numismatic investor/collector, and you seek the best, then seek out the best in quality and source.

Greek Coins And Their Values.

An important new work – comprising a listing, with values, of virtually every main type of Hellenic coinage.

Volume I covers the Greek coins of Europe arranged in geographical order from Spain in the west to the Peloponnese and Crete. It also gives a representative selection of contemporary Celtic coins – Gaul, Britain, Spain and Central Europe – the designs of which are largely derived from Greek coin types.

The illustrated preface contains sections on collecting Greek coins, a brief account of Greek history and the development of coinage, Greek coin types, weight standards and denominations, the dating of Greek coins, and books of reference and other sources quoted in the catalogue.

Also included is a table of ancient alphabets, 13 specially drawn maps and a comprehensive index.

3395 coins are listed and 1500 are illustrated from photographs taken by P. Frank Purvey of coins in the British Museum. Many of them had never been photographed for publication before, and will provide the collector and student with a valuable insight into the world's finest collection of Greek coins.

SERVICE

At M.B. SIMONS & ASSOCIATES, LTD., we know that more than fourteen solid years in the rare coin business means something. To us, it means that we will be here for many more years. To you, it should mean that we rank among America's most firmly established numismatic companies. We have no interest in making one-shot deals with customers—in this business, a fast buck is no guarantee of future transactions. Our primary interest is to develop permanent business relationships and friendships with all of our clients. Towards this end, we have below listed some of the many services we offer. Although most of these services are not unique to our firm, we pride ourselves in standing behind each and every commitment we make.

INTEGRITY...unfortunately, almost an R7 in the coin business. We are Life Members of the American Numismatic Association (#592), members of the Professional Numismatists Guild (since 1969), American Numismatic Society (since 1966), as well as all major state and regional numismatic organizations. We endeavor to treat all of our customers in an honest and forthright manner.

GRADING...proper grading is a science—for in order to achieve proficiency in its implementation, one must first study relevant literature. More importantly, however, one must study and compare the very coins in question. This is the experience we have; after having examined and graded vast numbers of coins in every series from half cents to fifty-dollar slugs, our grading has become standardized rather than subjective. We use the accepted Sheldon quantitative scale along with the more common adjectival descriptions (mentioning any and all defects, toning and striking characteristics, etc.) for the utmost in precision and clarity. Our descriptions are devised to provide you with an accurate mental picture. M.B. Simons & Associates, Ltd. was among the first to offer a GRADING GUARANTEE and we have always unconditionally guaranteed the authenticity of our merchandise!

BUYING...we are constantly in need of better quality and rare United States coins of all denominations and series. To meet this need, we travel extensively throughout the country expressly for the purpose of searching out those elusive coins our customers have come to expect from us. We log well over 100,000 miles per year attending all major shows and auctions, buying and appraising estates and collections of all kinds so that we may offer you the best values and the highest quality in U.S. coins. If you have better U.S. coins - it will pay you to contact us!

SELLING...we regularly issue extensively illustrated high quality Catalogs and Fixed Price Lists. Our advertisements may be found in any of the major numismatic periodicals. If you are actively engaged in collecting and/or investing in U.S. coins - you should be on our mailing list.

INVESTMENT COUNSELING...we firmly believe that an orderly and proper investment in quality numismatic material affords an unequalled medium for long term capital gain. We spend hours carefully researching, studying trends and past performances in order to become more adept in our recommendations to clients. We want you to be convinced that your hard-earned money is going into a stable, worthwhile and profitable investment. We employ a certified public accountant who will be happy to answer your questions pertaining to numismatic investment of private funds. Corporate Pension Plans, Keogh Plans or Estate Planning.

WANT LISTS...we take your Want Lists seriously. As former collectors, we know that it isn't always easy to locate the right coins. We are constantly in touch with other major dealers via telephone, in person at coin shows, and through the FACTS Teletype Network. If the coin is available somewhere, we can usually acquire it for you - and, at a fair price!

AUCTION COMMISSIONS...we attend virtually all major auction sales held in the United States (well over two dozen in this past year alone). We will be happy to examine, properly grade, evaluate, and determine a bidding limit for any coins that may interest you. If you so desire, we will then bid on (from the actual auction floor) those lots in which you have expressed interest. In this way you may participate in the auction sale as if you were there in person. You are provided with a prior and accurate evaluation of the coin itself, its value and its suitability for your collection or portfolio. Our fee is a nominal five percent (5%), which is negotiable on larger purchases. You pay NO commission unless your bid is successful. It certainly beats taking pot luck with a mail bid.

We hope to have the opportunity of serving you in the near future. We are as close as your telephone or mailbox. Visitors are welcome at our suburban Philadelphia offices; however, an appointment is suggested.

Mintmaster — Expandable and centrally secured

Basic Unit:

The basic kit comprises simple yet practical elements which allow for further expansion: the base with tray, two frames with trays and a lid. These precisely-fitting parts join to form a unit of three trays, each pulling out to reveal 50 mm x 50 mm compartments. These are delivered fully assembled, with fitted lock and key. Dimensions: 34.5 cm wide, 24 cm deep, 7 cm high.

Pelham Manor, NY 10803
(914) 738-2612

As collections grow, the Mintmaster grows with them. The Mintmaster is constructed to save storage space. A complete unit of 30 trays is only 35cm high. An extra attraction to collectors is the facility of building the Mintmaster into a bookcase, as a "case-within-a-case". The anchorage and central-locking system offer protection against theft, while at the same time being readily accessible when you want to examine or display your collection.

MORE ON OUR NATIONWIDE BUYING SERVICE

The success of our nationwide buying service was entirely contingent upon you-and you have made it successful. From Maine to Hawaii, we have received countless collections to buy. In the two years since the beginning of our nationwide buying service, we have purchased 87.4% of these collections. This has enabled us to expand our retail sales, but even more important, it has instituted a rational, reasonable, and secure way for you to sell your collection. To those of you who have sold us material, we pledge our continued fair and upright dealings. For those of you that we have not yet met, we urge you to take advantage of our nationwide buying service.

Here is what we are able to provide:

1. Unlimited instant cash (confidential, of course, if you wish).
2. Bank references available. (Contact Mr. Bill Whitsitt at Citizens National Bank, 2001 Bryan Tower, Dallas, or Mr. Steve Parker, Texas Bank & Trust, One Main Place, Dallas.)
3. Call us collect at (214) 748-4044 or (214) 748-4045 if you desire to sell a large collection, or you may ship your collection with invoice to Mike Follett Rare Coins, Plaza Level, One Main Place, Dallas, Texas 75250. Within 24 to 48 hours, you will receive our generous offer by return mail.
Should you decide not to sell your collection, we will return your coins immediately upon hearing from you. Naturally, the coins will be fully insured and we will pay all postage. As mentioned above, 87.4% of those who have sent us coins in this manner have sold their collection. Through this method, you risk absolutely nothing.
4. Should you have an extremely large collection, we can and will be at your home, office, or bank anywhere in the U.S.A. within 24 hours of your call.
5. We are prepared to buy your entire collection, not just the choice material.
6. You are selling to a coin retailer, not someone who sells to another dealer. This is so important. Consequently, you will receive the highest possible price.
7. The company you will be dealing with is known and respected throughout the numismatic world. Backed with 13 years of experience in buying, selling, and grading coins, Mike Follett Rare Coins has established itself as a leader in the numismatic fraternity. Your coins will be inspected by either Mike Follett or Don Willis. Mr. Willis, formerly of Marlow, Oklahoma, is also widely known for his knowledge of numismatics. He is a member of the P.N.G., T.N.A., and A.N.A. It is with great pride that we welcome him in our organization in order that we may be better able to serve you.

We are in particular need of the following numismatic items: all choice type material, early bust dollars and quarters in any grade, all key and semi-key coins with a wholesale value of $10 or more, scarce and rare dates in seated quarters or halves, and all U.S.A. and foreign gold — both rare and common. As we have marketed 19 coins with retail value of over $25,000 each during the last twelve months, we desperately need rare and unique material.

To conclude, take advantage of our policy. It is a service that thousands of satisfied customers have found profitable and safe. We sincerely believe that we can go further in meeting your individual needs than any other buying program offered today.

WHAT'S IN A COIN?

OUR REPUTATION HAS BEEN DEVELOPING FOR THE LAST 20 YEARS

Robert L. Hughes Enterprises, Inc., stands for one of the oldest and largest dealers of numismatic material in the United States. In an industry where disasters and financial problems are virtually an everyday occurrence, Robert L. Hughes Enterprises, Inc., has an incredible record of success.

For over 20 years we have been making commitments and promises and keeping them, to our suppliers, to customers, and to competitors alike. A lot of people have come to know our name and reputation, and that's a lot of references. Ask them!

WE PUT OUR NAME ON THE LINE WHEN YOU DO

We strive for excellence in performance. Deluding ourselves or you into thinking we are perfect is not our game. Our goal is to do the best we can for our customers toward better service and higher standards because that's what keeps our name and reputation alive.

ROBERT L. HUGHES ENTERPRISES, INC.

This name means promises kept, fair dealing, quality service. It means we'll be around tomorrow . . . because we have been for over twenty years. It means quality you can see in the coins you get, and it means quality you can't see . . . like concern for your financial investment. That's what's in our name. You have our word on it!

NOTICE to gold sellers

If there's one basic fact of numismatic life that's as sure as snow in Alaska, it's that William Youngerman wants to buy gold. We want to buy your common gold, we want to buy your rare gold, we want your U.S. and your foreign.

Sure, selling your numismatic material can be frustrating. We've seen collectors, time and again, shopping around like puppies at a flower show and end up doing more fretting and stewing than anything else. Now, we don't mind competition, but just remember that William Youngerman is a name that has meant gold since 1967. At any given time, we have in stock many of the true rarities. The only way to get material such as this is to pay through the nose.

We invite you to shop your U.S. or foreign gold for free appraisal and cash offer. We include the full cost of forwarding your coins in our offer. Although it doesn't happen often, if we do not come to an agreement, we will return your coins fully insured and postpaid, with our check for all your shipping and cost. Send your material fully insured, including invoice listing coins, your full address and telephone number. If you prefer, we will fly to buy large estates or collections. Call today and make an appointment to fit your schedule.

Our references include: Professional Numismatists Guild; American Numismatic Association; Better Business Bureau.

What more can we say. Give us a try. You'll be glad you did!

Your Money and Time Deserve Our Money and Time ... and a Lot More ...

After years of effort, dollars, and hours of study, you have managed to put together a collection of rare and quality coins of which you can be proud. Certainly, your collection is worth a lot more today than it was when you first began. So, why not spend a little more time considering the best method of sale.

Superior Galleries can insure that your coins will bring the highest realized prices possible.

CONSIDER THESE ADVANTAGES:

- * Superior entered the field of numismatics in 1930. Where else can you get 47 years of experience?
- * We are a financially sound corporation, prepared to provide generous cash advancements at the time of consignment.
- * Your collection, while stored in our vaults, is fully insured at all times.
- * With the use of our extensive Numismatic Library, containing over 2,000 volumes, your coins will be expertly catalogued by a staff of professionals who are more than just familiar with your type of collection.
- * We know the importance of quality photographs in assisting mail bidders, we therefore use more photographs than most European or Domestic auction firms.
- * Our auctions are strategically planned around major numismatic events to insure that our sessions are well attended.
- * Our mailing list has been carefully developed and closely screened to provide our consignors with qualified anxious buyers who are prepared to pay realistic prices for quality coins.
- * The promotion of our auction sale begins with the first consignment we receive. Our spacious location in Beverly Hills provides a most comfortable atmosphere and allows every floor bidder the opportunity to view the lots at least three months prior to our sale. We personally contact our active buyers and provide private viewing of your coins.
- * Most importantly, after the sale is over and you have reaped your financial rewards for all of the years you have spent building your collection, our catalog becomes your catalog ... A permanent record of all that you have achieved in numismatics.

We, at Superior Galleries, are certain that our method of auction sale is the finest available and we have proved it to our consignors. Now, we want to prove it to you. We are accepting consignments for our next auction sale. Contact us today by calling or writing. We will be happy to provide you with all of the information you will need as well as a past auction catalog and prices realized so you may judge for yourself.

The Royal Canadian Mint

to commemorate the International Year of the Child, and by authority of the Canadian Government, announces a limited minting of special interest.

The 1979 Canadian $100 22 karat gold proof coin

Canada joins hands with the rest of the world in wholehearted recognition of the inalienable rights of children everywhere in this, the International Year of the Child.

Accordingly, the Canadian Government has chosen 'International Year of the Child' as the pictorial theme for the 1979 $100 22 karat gold proof coin issued by the Royal Canadian Mint. This beautiful coin has a diameter of 27 mm and weighs 16.965 grams, of which 15.551 grams (1/2 Troy ounce) are fine gold. It is a precious metal, legal tender coin containing 91.66% fine gold and 8.34% fine silver.

A limited issue of 250,000 of the 1979 'International Year of the Child' $100 22 karat gold proof coin has been authorized, orders for which must be postmarked not later than 31st October, 1979 and will be considered on a 'first come, first served' basis until all coins have been sold.

The obverse of this exquisite coin carries Arnold Machin's delicate effigy of The Queen and bears the legend 'Elizabeth II D.G. Regina'. The reverse features a symbolic design by Ottawa artist Carola Tietz inspired by the International Year of the Child. Six children of different nationalities link hands to form an incomplete chain semi-circling the globe in a spirit of unity and communication through which a happier world may be realized. With the guidance and understanding of adults everywhere, the gap can be closed. All the distinctive charm of this moving design has been captured by the superb craftsmen of the Royal Canadian Mint.

A pre-numbered Certificate of Authenticity, signed by the Master of the Mint, will accompany each coin and officially attest that it is a 22 karat gold proof coin of legal tender struck by the Royal Canadian Mint and authorized by the Canadian Government.

Both coin and certificate will be presented in a handsome brown genuine leather case decorated with a Canadian maple leaf, and lined with a soft brown velour lining. The ensemble of coin and case would make a thoughtful and valuable gift.

Important notice

In order to fulfill as many orders as possible, the Mint reserves the right to limit the number of coins per order if, for any reason, it should be found necessary to do so. The Royal Canadian Mint shall replace any coin found defective due to manufacture or workmanship, if the defects are reported to the Mint within 30 days after receipt of same. If, however, no replacement coin is available, the Mint shall refund to the purchaser the purchase price of such coin.

35% LOSS IN THREE YEARS!

In March of 1979 an 1875-CC quarter sold at auction for $750. This same coin realized $1,150 at auction in 1976! Today no one can afford such a loss. If you're involved in buying or selling, investing in or collecting numismatic items at public auctions, you should be aware of a valuable service:

THE AUCTION MARKET REPORT

published quarterly by AUCTIONALYSIS

With the current active market and an increasing number of auctions each year, it is more difficult and more important than ever to be informed of the market situation. To realize profits you must have accurate, reliable information. The Auction Market Report provides you with just that: reliable, accurate information compiled from major public coin auctions; information geared to keep you on top of the market.

WHAT WE OFFER

There are many market advisory services today dealing in some manner with the analysis of current retail or wholesale prices of coins. What we offer is strictly an analysis of public coin auctions. We follow major auctions and provide a comprehensive analysis each quarter of the year. Each report will contain an in-depth study of a selected series or variety for the type coin specialist. This study will provide information concerning rarity, quality of material available at auction, and current yields. In addition, the Auction Market Report will provide information on:

GENERAL MARKET CONDITIONS

ACTIVE SERIES

RARITIES

PEDIGREE COINS

EXTRA VALUE

As a subscriber you will receive personal counseling on specific coins. If you are interested in the past performance of a particular coin and need to know whether now is the time to buy or sell, just write to us explaining your needs. You will receive our research report on the item along with recommendations. This service alone will be well worth the cost of your subscription.

IN ADDITION

You will also receive during the year AT LEAST four additional supplementary reports dealing strictly with a special selection of coins. These reports will point out investment potential of selected dates and mint marks, and provide information on quantity, quality, and yields.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

We are so confident in our service that we offer a full unconditional money back guarantee. Simply return the first report and your subscription fee will be promptly returned without question.

Send $25 for one year subscription (four issues) plus supplementary reports to:

When you're at the ANA Convention, Consign to New England's Fall Auction

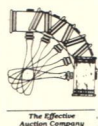

At New England Rare Coin Auctions, we put the same professional effort and expertise into every one of our auctions. Not just the world-famous ANA Sale. But every auction we handle. And this fall's New England Auction is no exception.

That's why our special Consignment Table outside the bourse area should be one of your most important stops at the ANA Convention. New England numismatist Charles O. Browne will be there accepting consignments for our Fall Sale. He'll be happy to evaluate your consignment — either on the spot or at a private location convenient to you.

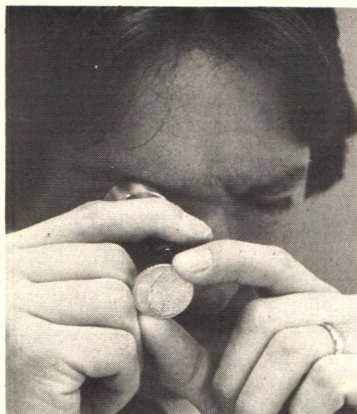

New England will conduct the Fall Sale on November 9 and 10 at Boston's exclusive Hyatt-Regency Hotel. Our Fall Auction will provide the many consignor and bidder "extras" for which our sales have become famous: personal service, promotional know-how, reasonable commission rates, expert execution and follow-through — and, of course, top prices realized. New England consignors enjoy the many services and benefits that make selling rare coins at our auctions so exciting. And so profitable.

Stop by and see Charles O. Browne at our special Consignment Table at the ANA Convention. He'll show you how you can realize high profits . . . at the New England Fall Sale.

"HIGLEY" or "GRANBY" Coinage 1737 "Broad Axe" Variety (Three Pence) FINEST KNOWN!!

The earliest and rarest of legitimate American colonial period copper coins, the very mention of a "Higley" copper conjures up the historic romances and impossible desires of the most ardent collector of colonial coins! Because of their extreme rarity and value, in any condition, few collectors can but dream of owning a genuine example of this legendary coin.

Of what few specimens exist, most are severely damaged or heavily pitted and eroded and generally in quite poor condition. In fact, just two or three fine examples of all "Higley" varieties have been sold at public auction during the past thirty five years!

Our coin is an extraordinarily choice VERY FINE with the usual striking weaknesses indigenous to this primitive early American issue. The planchet possesses an exquisite medium brown patina in addition to absolutely impeccable surfaces, a near impossibility with this issue! Bear in mind that most of the very few FINE quality specimens extant of ALL VARIETIES have dark and/or granular flans.

This coin is, in fact, recognized as the FINEST KNOWN specimen of this extremely rare date and variety!!

Certainly, the "Higley" coinage is "KING" of all early American copper coins, and a true aristocrat in the entire realm of American colonial and federal numismatics!

HASTY SELLING VS. QUICK BORROWING

Selling your collection can be profitable if you have enough time to find the best prices. But a collection sold quickly is seldom sold profitably.

In any emergency, borrow the money you need at Edelman's. Use your collection as collateral and still retain complete ownership.

At Edelman's, you can obtain quick confidential loans for any amount up to 80% of the value of your properties — from $50 to $50,000 and more. Take as long as 30 months to pay with a repayment plan tailored to your specific needs. Your collection will be safely protected in Edelman's air-conditioned vaults until you reclaim it. Write today for further information.

The International Association of Professional Numismatists (I.A.P.N.)

established in Geneva in 1951, is a group of over one hundred of the world's leading dealers, located in some twenty different countries. The objects of the I.A.P.N. are the "coordination of ... efforts and ideas for the development of the numismatic trade, the encouragement of scientific research, and the propagation of numismatics..."

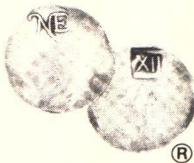

Members guarantee the authenticity of everything that they sell.

The I.A.P.N. is the founder and sponsor of the International Bureau for the Suppression of Counterfeit Coins (I.B.S.C.C.), headquartered in London.

Information concerning the Association's aims, activities, and current membership is contained in a complimentary booklet, which may be obtained upon request from:

WE PAY MORE! WHY SELL FOR LESS?

WE WANT TO BUY: Your entire collection is urgently needed no matter what the size, if it contains the items we are looking for. Generally we are interested in any collection which contains Choice and Rare coins and early U.S. coins in AU or better condition.

SELLING TO US: You will find that selling to our Rare Coin Galleries is easy and safe. Here is all you do—Package your coins carefully and send them to us insured or registered mail. You may state the value you wish to receive or send your coins for our generous offer. Upon receipt David Bland, Jr. will personally examine your coins and notify you immediately. Our offer will be in the form of a confidential insured check—cash payments can also be arranged. No collection is too large. (we have over $1,000,000.00 to spend). If your collection is too large to mail please send an itemized inventory to the attention of David Bland, Jr., and we will travel to you if the size of the collection warrants it.

YOU WILL RECEIVE MORE FOR YOUR COINS: Because our needs are so great at this time we will pay more than any other major dealer in the U.S. Why sell your collection for less when it is so easy and safe to sell your coins to David Bland, Jr.?

PAPER CURRENCY WANTED

We are interested in buying most Canadian and British Commonwealth bank notes. We particularly want scarce notes and notes in choice condition, and will pay an additional premium for these notes. Notes may be sent by registered mail for an immediate cash offer, or you may send a list describing the note, condition and price wanted. Payment will be made within twenty-four hours of receipt of material. Over-graded notes will either be returned or an adjustment made in the total payment. If you are not familiar with the grading of bank notes, we will grade them for you, make payment, and hold the notes for two weeks pending your acceptance of our offer. If the offer is not acceptable, you need only return our cheque and we will return your notes right away.

BULK LOTS

SPECIAL #20 - OUR BEST

If you have a few bucks to spend, this is the one to try!

We buy collections, accumulations, and other dealers' stock.

We spend hours each week grading, pricing and putting coins in holders.

By selling bulk lots, we eliminate a lot of this work.

This lot will contain literally hundreds of coins, starting with a fine trade dollar, an early half cent and will include two cent pieces, three cent pieces, large cents, Flying Eagle cents, Shield nickels, Bust and Seated Liberty coins from half dime to half dollars and Morgan and Peace silver dollars. Will also throw in rolls of Liberty nickels, Buffalo nickels, Indian cents, early Wheats and Barber coins. The lot will also contain later B.U. and proof coins and much more.

In addition, we will include a bonus worth $25.00. You keep this even if you return the other coins. You'll also receive a free booklet - "Successful Coin Dealing."

Keep the selection for 10 days. If it isn't completely satisfactory return for same day refund. Your satisfaction is a must with us always.

Try this special at $499.50 postpaid. Master Charge and Visa O. K.

Possibly the best $500.00 you will ever spend.

Paying Top Prices

Not Just A Slogan But Guaranteed Results:

- 1) We are consistently one of the biggest buyers at any major coin convention we attend. The coins that we buy from other dealers have mostly been purchased from collectors. Why not sell to the top buyer.
- 2) Year after year we have bought more collections from collectors than other dealers on a competitive bid basis. We are not afraid to bid against our competitors, we welcome the opportunity.
- 3) We have one of the larger mail order businesses in the country and we are constantly in need of good numismatic material. Since we have the customers we can and will pay more.
- 4) We have never had to pass up a collection because of size. We will not try to buy your collection and then pay you for it as we sell it.
- 5) We spent over 100 days traveling last year to buy coins. Few can match this record. If you have a collection for sale we would appreciate having an opportunity to show you how much we can pay.

You Have The Following Options Available:

- 1) You may ship your coins to us with the prices wanted.
- 2) You may ship your coins for our offer. We will contact you immediately with our offer.
- 3) Large collections we will travel to see.

Any questions, please give us a call. All transactions are strictly confidential. Cash is always available.

MYLAR

STOPS COIN OXIDATION!

STOPS CURRENCY FADING!

Damaging coin oxidation and currency fading caused by "Ultra-Violet Rays" from sunlight or fluorescent light is prevented by the use of Mylar. DuPont Mylar is the most dimensionally stable of all plastics. Mylar cannot be torn, contains no plasticizer as in acetate to migrate from film causing deterioration, brittleness or yellowing. It is unaffected by water, moisture vapor, oils, greases, most acids, alkalis and solvents. At last-Coin and Currency Protection! We now have "failsafe DuPont Mylar, clear lined" coin Flip-Lines. Each comes with information card. No staples or cardboard. Coins are locked in by clear Mylar flap; coins do not touch vinyl.

We hope all of you currency collectors will be able to stop by our table at the ANA convention being held in St. Louis, July 28-August 2. Write now or see us there. We are buying and selling all types of U.S. currency.

Copies of our new 40 page 6th edition currency price list are still available for the nominal fee of 65¢, if you'd care to have one. Response to the list was terrific, but we still have a good amount of notes for sale.

See you at Table #615 in St. Louis.

QUIETLY . . .

and with little ballyhoo, I've been paying up-to-date, current market prices for fine foreign coins, tokens, essays, and commemorative medals for many years.

Since 1958 I've been buying and selling numismatic items of quality, and with over 20 years of experience in foreign numismatics, a constantly increasing knowledge born of a real interest in and devotion to the subject, and a reference library which compares favorably to most, I feel I am well equipped to pay realistic prices for anything worthwhile you have for sale. Let me hear from you whenever you are thinking of selling.

ANA CERTIFICATION SERVICE

- Renders an opinion as to whether an item is genuine or otherwise.
- Renders an opinion as to grade on United States regular issue coins submitted for authentication. Coins previously authenticated by ANACS may be graded if resubmitted with the original photo certificate and payment of the grading fee.
- Issues a photo certificate with a registered number on genuine items. The certificate is returned with the item.
- Returns most modern issue items within a few working days. Other specialized items take somewhat longer. If grading is requested, please allow an extra few weeks for this service.
- Cannot: Determine valuations of items—values must be supplied by submittor.
- Cannot: Grade coins that have not been authenticated.
- Cannot: Be responsible for special holders.

Presenting

THE CLASSIC

from Whitman

The only name that would properly describe this distinguished new album.

The Classic — a coin album system designed to enhance the most distinguished collection. So handsome it's almost a collector's item itself. The Classic comes in the rich, familiar Whitman blue. Its cover and spine are gold embossed. Constructed of sturdy dura-board, covered with soil-resistant, grained leatherette. A flexible system that allows you to remove or add or rearrange pages while providing maximum protection for your most valuable coins. The Classic from Whitman. Get it at leading coin dealers everywhere.

- 18 popular titles • Universal binder and pages available for specialized collections • Pages open flat for convenient viewing
- Constructed entirely of chemically pure materials to inhibit tarnish • Data sheet on inside cover gives mint records and historical information

Look for the Whitman signature when you want to be certain.

Polypropylene constructed spine is riveted. Screw-type hinge posts are strong, easily removed.

Sliding acetate windows permit two-sided visibility. Thumb notches allow easy removal of windows.

7 $\frac{3}{8}$ " x 9" x 1 $\frac{7}{8}$ " binder stands upright for attractive shelf display.
